HUGE SUM IS PAID GOODHUE

$155,919 DRAWN BY CAPITOL ARCHITECT IN TWO YEARS

Bertram G. Goodhue, Supposedly Working on $25,000 a Year Salary, Allowed Extra Items Under His Contract, Which Boosts Total to $75,000 Annually.

$35,000 FOR "OVERHEAD EXPENSE" OF HIS OFFICE

If Construction Should Extend Over Seven Year Period, Architectural Cost On Present Basis Would Be $500,000, or Tenth of Total Sum.

Bertram G. Goodhue, New York architect employed to prepare plans for Nebraska's new state capitol and supervise its construction, has drawn from the state treasury during the first two years of his contract the gross sum of $155,919, as shown by the records of the state auditor, and has a further claim pending for $23,356 to cover the last quarter of 1922.

Mr. Goodhue is supposed to be working on a salary of $25,000 per year, but he has claimed and been allowed extra time under his contract which run the total over $75,000 a year. Of the nearly $156,000 paid to him thus far by the state of Nebraska, the sum of $35,500, was to meet "overhead expense" in his New York office.

Some of the architect's friends have been representing him as "a poet and an dealist" with no taste for sordid commercial affairs. It would seem, however, from his financial dealings with the state of Nebraska that he might be classed as a fairly good business man.

Besides the amounts of money which Mr. Goodhue has personally drawn from the state in his own name, he has an assistant working in Lincoln, whose salary the state says. This assistant, W. L. Younkin, has been paid $4,526 up to the end of February.

May Run to Half Million.

If the period of construction for the new capitol should run six or seven years and the architect's bills for salary and extras continue to run as they have in the past, he will receive all told something like $1,000,000. This is 10 per cent of the entire sum appropriated for the new capitol.

The total architectural cost, however does not end here. Separate contracts have been made by the capitol commission, largely on Mr. Goodhue's advice and recommendation, with half a dozen eastern firms that do special kinds of designing and engineering, and up to date $42,190 has been paid to them.

Even this does not complete the expense under the general head of architecture, special designing, and engineering. Before contracting with Mr. Goodhue and the other firms, the commission employed fourteen other architects in arranging and carrying out the selective competition which resulted in his being chosen. This cost a total of $29,753 more.

State Pays Many Assistants.

Under Goodhue's contract with the commission, he charges up to the state of Nebraska the services of many persons in his employ at the New York office for work claimed to have been done by them on the capitol plans and project.

At first there were ten or a dozen of these persons. Then the number increased to a score, and later to thirty, forty and fifty. During the second quarter of 1922 from April 1 to June 30 Mr. Goodhue billed to the state and collected for the services of 32 regular employes, besides three others engaged in sculptural work, one consulting plumbing expert, and a consulting electrical expert.

The rate of pay collected for Goodhue's own employes in that quarter ranged from 46 cents to $9.60 per hour for a total of 6,745 hours, while the head sculptor and the plumbing expert were paid $10 an hour each. The total of the claims for the three months' period, which was additional to Goodhue's personal salary and that of his assistant in Lincoln, exceeded $15,500.

Large Sums for "Overhead."

Each of the architect's claims added and paid includes a large amount for "overhead," except in two or three instances when he received his salary on a separate claim.

For instance, he drew $2,273 for "overhead" in June, 1921; $3,202 in August, $8,852 in September; $9,010 in February, 1922; $6,141 in June; $3,685 in July and $2,250 in October.

His claim for the last quarter of 1922, not yet paid, carries in "overhead" item of $4,570, while services of employes aggregate $4,405.

It also appears by Mr Goodhue's last bill that he has aid $7,996 for the printing of specifications furnished to bidders which he had done by a New York firm, when printing houses in Lincoln would have done the same work for $2,500. He is asking the capitol commission to reimburse himself for the expenditure.

Four Men Burned By Metal Blast; Ship Is Damaged

DETROIT, March 2.—Four persons were burned seriously, two of them possibly fatally, today when molten metal exploded in a blast furnace at the Hanna furnace company's plant, River Rouge, causing a $25,000 loss.

The ore steamer Bradley, tied up at a dock, 200 feet from the Hanna plant caught fire when flying sparks fell on the cabin. The fire was quickly extinguished.

ROMANCE BREAK QUICKLY HEALED

Pola Negri Reconsiders Decision Not to Marry Famous Film Comedian.

Reconciliation Follows Polish Star's Assertion "Too Poor" To Wed Chaplin.

(International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES Cal. March 2.—Charley Chaplin "works fast" in love as well as on the screen.

Eight hours after Pola Negri had publicly announced that she had broken her engagement to the comedy king, Chaplin early today was able to announce a reconciliation which the Polish screen star later confirmed.

It was just a lover's quarrel — nothing more—and now filmland's most famous romance is again sailing under fair skies and on smooth waters.

Late yesterday Miss Negri received newspaper men at the Lasky studio where she is making pictures, and in a most tragic way, announced she was breaking her engagement to Chaplin. She admitted that Chaplin had yet to learn the sad news, but insisted that their romance was irrevocably dead. She stated she was sending the sad news to "Scharlee" through the medium of one of their best friends.

"A Thousand Things"

Miss Negri passionately declared that she would be wed only to her art and that the happy days at Santa Barbara and Del Monte would be forgotten forever. All because—a formal statement said "too poor to marry," and Miss Negri said:

"Oh, a thousand things; pleas do not ask me."

News reached Chaplin at his studio, where he was in the midst of a big scene at 5 o'clock. At 5:10 the company had been dismissed. Charley's funny costume changed for his street clothes and he was speeding to Miss Negri's residence.

Then ominous silence until midnight.

First, the report came that Miss Negri had refused to see Charlie. Still Chaplin did not emerge from the residence. Advisers to Pola paid her hurried visits and came out shaking their heads.

Then shortly after midnight Chaplin himself came forth smiling.

"There has been a reconciliation," he announced.

The Chaplin admitted that it was all because of a lovers' tiff.

Something came up three days ago and during that long period Charley did not see Pola. Then came publication in a local paper of a jocular statement from Charley that he was "too poor" to wed. This was the staggering blow to the love-sad heart of the famous tragedienne.

Miss Negri, through her secretary resumed the reconciliation, saying Miss Negri had been through a "terrific nervous strain."

It was intimated that the wedding might take place soon.

Heater Is Cause Of Student's Death

CHICAGO, March 2. — Martin B. Riley 18-year-old high school student was found asphyxiated today, after a gas heater left burning all night consumed oxygen in the house.

Four members of another family a short distance away, were found unconscious from the same cause, but were resuscitated.

FARMERS FAVOR PAVING REPEAL

Sentiment at Mass Meeting at Capitol Friday Against Present Special County Statute and Opposes Amended Egger Bill.

LANCASTER DELEGATION PRESENT AT SESSION

Dale Says General State Law Should Apply Here—Thinks City People Should Pay the Larger Share on Roads Leading Into Lincoln.

A motion for the repeal of the county paving law was unanimously adopted.

Absolute repeal of the Lancaster county rural paving law was the almost unanimous sentiment of about 100 farmers at the mass meeting in Representative hall at the Capitol Friday afternoon. It was expected that resolutions would be adopted opposing the amended Egger bill, which provides for assessing 10 per cent of the cost of paving to adjacent lands, the remainder to be paid by the county as a whole, except in an area within two miles of Lincoln.

The six Lancaster county representatives in the legislature had been specially invited to attend. J. Reid Green, I. W. Jacoby, J. P. Egger, and Paul Dennis were present during the early part of the meeting.

A. P. Lawson of Lincoln, was elected chairman and B. L. Montgomery, county agent, was made secretary.

W. D. Dale of University Place outlined the provisions of the present paving law and declared that certain commercial interests in Lincoln had induced Representative Egger to amend his bill so as to make it worse, if anything than the statute as it now stands. Farmers, he declared, are helping to pave main roads into Lincoln, but must get along in their home communities with old, rickety wooden bridges and ordinary roads.

Repeal of the law Mr. Dale said would not leave Lancaster county without any way of paving roads. He called attention to the general paving statute applying to all counties and said the same procedure could be followed here. He believed that the city people should pay for paving on roads leading to Lincoln, instead of asking the farmers to pay a large part of the cost.

Mr. Dale invited anyone who favored the bill to speak and particularly invited Representative Green but Green declined, stating he was just there to "listen."

W. O. Buel, of Hickman, said that he understood that the city was to pay seventy-four per cent of the cost. Mr. Dale contradicted this statement and stated that the city paid fifty per cent, the rest being paid by the rural districts and railroads.

Mr. Dale said that the merchants of the city would collect from the farmers all the taxes paid by the merchants and that ultimately the entire cost was paid by the farmers. He said that he did not believe that the people of Lincoln, as a whole, favored the bill.

BURLINGTON TO EXTEND LINES

Report Says Road Planning Construction of $2,500,000 Branch to Tap Semi-Bituminous Coal Fields in Montana.

ST PAUL, March 2.—Construction of a $2,500,000 branch railroad in southeastern Montana to tap the semi-bituminous coal fields in that region, is planned by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, according to authoritative information received here today.

Agents for the Burlington are purchasing the right of way from Sheridan, Wyo., northeast into the Rosebud district, it was stated. Plans provide for starting construction this spring.

The new road will be a sixty mile branch and will start from the main road near Forsyth, Mont., into the Rosebud field, where it will operate large strip mines.

Local Burlington officials had received no information concerning the construction of this branch but stated that the acuracy of the report was entirely probable. The Nebraska district is, of course, not effected in any way by the improvement except that much of the coal obtained from such a new district would be shipped through Nebraska and might supply a part of the local needs of this state.

MRS. PRESSON ILL.

Col. J. H. Presson, record clerk in the governor's office, has been called to Omaha by the serious illness of his wife, which is expected to prove fatal. She has been an invalid for several years and has lately been removed to a hospital. She is almost 80 years of age. Col. and Mrs. Presson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary several years ago.

Partial Eclipse Of Moon Visible Friday Evening

A partial eclipse of the moon will be visible Friday evening in Lincoln and all over the United States, according to Prof. G. D. Swezey, state university astronomer.

The moon will rise at 6:04, and around 8:30 the shadow will be plainly visible. The earth will stay between the sun and the moon about two hours. From one-third to one-half of the latter will be obscured.

While there are from two to seven eclipses of the moon every year, Professor Swezey says, this one is more widely visible than most.

U. S. INCOME TAX RETURNS ROLL IN

Filed at Lincoln Office About Same Rate As Last Year.

Time Limit Expires March 15 —Anticipate Last Minute Rush.

Income tax returns are being filed for 1922 at about the same rate as they were filed for 1921, according to Alonzo E. Youst chief of the Lincoln division of the U. S. internal revenue office. It is anticipated that about as many returns will be made this year as last, but this will fall below the number made for 1919 or 1920. Eleven days remain for the filing of tax reports. All returns must be in the hands of a collector or deputy collector by March 15. After that date, individuals will be subject to a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax and a fine of $1,000 for making a late return.

The internal revenue office has placed thirty-six men in Nebraska to assist in making out income tax reports. These men travel from place, locating either in a bank or hotel, or in any other convenient place, and assist merchants, farmers and others in filling out the tax blanks. In the Lincoln division there are ten men with headquarters at Auburn, Beatrice, De Witt, Superior, York and Lincoln.

Lincoln residents can secure assistance in making returns from the internal revenue office at the postoffice. Mr Youst and his assistants are desirous of avoiding a last-minute rush three or four days before the fifteenth and ask Lincoln people who need assistance to call at their earliest opportunity.

All married persons who have a net income of $2,000 or over, or a gross income of $5,000 or over, and all single persons with a net income of $1,000 or over, or a gross income of $5,000 or over must make out a report regardless of whether or not they must pay any tax. Married persons are allowed an exemption of $400 for each child under 18 years, and for dependent persons incapable of self-support due to mental or physical defections. Married persons whose net incomes dwo not exceed $5,000 may deduct $2,500, while those with incomes over $5,000 may deduct $2,000.

No Interest in Murder Charge

Pretty Witness First Declares Never Heard of Law Against Slaying.

NEW YORK, March.—Miss Paula Soudes on a trial charged with slaying Oscari Martelliere, insurance broker testified today that she had never heard of any law against murder and was not interested in it.

"Were you not taught in your infancy that it was wrong? Were you not taught in church 'Thou shalt not kill?'" demanded Assistant Attorney Brothers.

Then she answered affirmatively.

"I do not know that I killed him," she declared.

Noted Hunters Seek Divorce

CHICAGO, March —Big game hunting exploits of Carl E. Akeley, famous hunter and naturalist and his wife, no less renowned as a hunter in the jungles of Africa, were recalled here today as announcement was made that their individual petitions for divorce, each charging the other with desertion, would be heard here March 22.

Woman, Freed In Five Minutes of Charge of Murder

FARMINGTON, Maine, March 2.—Five minutes after court opened today in the trial of Mrs. Ethel H. Bean, for the murder of her husband, Judge Dunn ordered the woman discharged. The crowded court room was thrown into a furore by the unexpected turn. Spectators cheered. The judge reprimanded them.

BRYAN APPROVES PROPOSED CHANGE IN BANKING BILL

Believes Senate Committee Amendments Remove Objectional Features.

Still Favors Small Commission —Thinks Intangible Tax Law Should Go.

While not committing himself to an endorsement of the bill as a whole in its new form, Governor Bryan expressed his opinion Friday morning that the amendments to H. R. 272 or S. F. 105 the banking bill, as tentively agreed upon by the senate committee, have greatly improved the measure and removed from it several things that he considered very objectionable.

"From what I have read in the newspapers," the governor said, "it seems as though the makers of the house bill would hardly know it with the amendments which the senate committee has under contemplation. The big change and the vital one is that the state will retain undisputed control.

"The proposed reduction from 1 per cent to one-half of 1 per cent in the maximum special assessments during any calendar year will not be effective till 1924, and it looks ahead to a general improvement in banking conditions which will render large assessment unnecessary. There has in fact, already been a noticeable improvement in conditions during the last three or four months, and banks are gradually being relieved of the strain which they have been under.

"One feature which is not yet satisfactory, in my judgment, is the large advisory committee of seven members. It would seem to be the purpose of such a large committee to bring pressure on the state banking department, rather than to advise and assist it. A committee of three would be of more service to the state and less dangerous to a weak administration."

Should Repeal Intangible Law.

Mr. Bryan suggested that the legislature should lose no time in repealing the intangible tax portion of the 1921 revenue law and thus do away with the inequality which it has created among the taxpayers of the state.

"I don't want to be understood as saying 'I told you so,'" he continued, "but it was pointed out during the late campaign that the state bankers association was then preparing to take advantage of the three-fourths tax exemption allowed on intangible property and that suits would be filed for that purpose.

"The intangible tax provision enacted two years ago shifted $800,000 of taxes from the rich to the poor, by reducing the rate on those able to pay and collecting more from those already overburdened. Now the banks have taken shelter behind the stame statute and another $750,000 of taxes is transferred from them to others.

"I advocated the repeal of this iniquitous law in all my campaign speeches. I believe that its effect is fully understood by the people of Nebraska and that they are unanimous in wanting its repeal."

PROPOSES PROBE OF SUGAR BOOST

Senator Would Investigate Rapid Price Advance Despite Ample Supply.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Investigation by the senate manufacturers committee headed by Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, of the recent advances in the price of sugar was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa.

The committee would be directed "to investigate the manipulations of the sugar market, and ascertain the cause of the rapid advance in the price of sugar notwithstanding the fact that the secretary of commerce announces that there is no world's shortage of the sugar supply.

The investigation would proceed during the recess of congress this summer.

Plumbers Strike For Boost In Pay

OMAHA, March 2.—Two hundred and fifty union plumbers and steamfitters were on strike today following refusal of master plumbers to grant them a 25 per cent increase in the daily wage of $8 a day it was reported this morning. Other plumbers whose employers granted the increase are at work.

A strike of electricians over wages is also said to be threatened.

Operate Most Railroads.

DUSSELDORF, March 2 — The Ruhr allies today went ahead with plans to operate all railroads in the Ruhr and Rhineland with the exception of those in the Cologne area. General Payot, the transportation chief of the French mission, will be the administrative officer.

Slap on Heavy Fine.

ESSEN, March 2.—The town of Bochum has been fined 35,000,000 marks because two news dealers were beaten by Germans for selling French newspapers.

The town of Kettwig near Essen, where military telephone wires were cut, has been fined one million marks.

These fines are in accordance with an order by General DeGoutte, French commander, that cities and towns throughout the Ruhr valley shall be held responsible for sabotage or other acts of disorder designed to hinder the French and Belgian armies of occupation.

Hold Germans Liable.

German officials of such towns will be liable to arrest and trial by court-martial in serious cases.

The Bochum fine was collected quickly. French troops swooped down upon the rathaus, took the amount and left.

In Dusseldorf, Herr Wenzel, assistant director of posts and telegraphs has been sentenced to six months imprisonment. He is charged with being implicated with sabotage on the military telephone apparatus.

It is reported that Lord Mayor Haverstein, of Oberhausen and vice Lord Mayor Schaffer of Essen, who were recently given prison sentences of two years, have been called successively at Dusseldorf and Mayence.

Government Pays Fines.

BERLIN March 2.—The German government has been paying fines assessed by the French courtmartial against Esen policemen, in order to expedite their release from prison, says a dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung.

Prison sentences and fines ranging from 50,000 marks to hundreds of thousands of marks have been imposed on many policemen for obeying the orders of the federal minister of the interior not to salute French and Belgian officers, the dispatch says.

Billion Marks Damage.

BERLIN March 2.—The damage by the recent plundering of the Bochum chamber of commerce amounted to more than one billion marks, the Tageblatt estimates.

French Reoccupy Town.

(International News Service.)

ESSEN, March 2.—French troops re-occupied Gleisenkirchen today.

All the German police in Gelsenkirchen were arrested by the French. French cavalry, supported by machine guns and tanks, took up position in the center of Gelsenkirchen.

The exact strength of the Gelsenkirchen force is not known. They carried two machine guns with them.

An increase in sabotage was reported.

Says Merger of Three Carriers Would Be Help

WASHINGTON, March 2. — Consolidation of the Great Northern Southern Pacific and Burlington railroads would result in improved service by eliminating terminal delays and by assuring better car supply for crop movements, Ralph Budd of the Great Northern today told the interstate commerce commission.

If this consolidation is approved, Budd said, the three roads will make it effective by forming a new system comprising in addition the Colorado & Southern, the Forth Worth & Denver City and the Spokane Portland & Seattle railroads.

PIECES OF FUR ARE FOUND ON AUTOMOBILE

Accused Denies He Was Intoxicated As Alleged and Says Did Not Run Down Trio—Accident Worst Motor Mishap of The Year.

(Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—Henry G. Brock banker and clubman and member of a widely known Philadelphia family was arrested on a charge of reckless driving after his automobile had struck and killed two women and a man. A police surgeon said he was under the influence of liquor. He did not stop the car, which was wrecked against a pole four blocks from the scene of the killings. One of the women killed was a widow and the mother of eight children.

Later he was held without bail by a police magistrate on a homicide charge. He was also held in $5,000 bail on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated and for failing to go to the aid of an injured person.

Held Without Bail

(International News Service.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 2.—Henry G. Brock, broker clubman and socially prominent was held without bail today by Magistrate Stevens on a charge of homicide in connection with the death of three persons last night when a motor car speeding at 50 miles an hour crashed into them as they were alighting from a trolley car.

According to the police pieces of a fur coat belonging to one of the victims were found caught on Mr. Brock's car when the latter was taken into custody some squares distant as he stood beside his machine. The car also had a damaged wheel.

The dead are:

MRS. ELLEN O'DONNELL, 55
LEO O'DONNELL, her son, 29
MISS MARY MURPHY, 6
all of this city.

Denies He Is Guilty.

Brock, taken to a police station denied his guilt. According to his friends, the police charge that he was intoxicated, is false, although he admitted he had some ale to drink at their house prior to his departure.

The accident is the worst motor mishap that has occurred here this year. The passengers had just stepped down from the trolley in the semi-darkness, illuminated only by the lights when the blazing headlights of the death car rushed down upon them.

There was the impact of crashing steel on flesh and the bodies were hurled into the air as the motor thundered past with roaring exhaust. Death was practically instantaneous.

Brock's arrest came as the result of search of the entire section by motorcycle police.

Brock protested his innocence.

"If I had done this, I wouldn't be here," he is quoted as saying. Do you think I'm a fool?

Seeks Commission—Robert Hillingsworth has brought suit in district court against Holland Bros. for $347, alleged due as commission for procuring a purchaser for the defendant's lumber yards at Burns, Wyo.

Want Administrator—A petition for appointment of an administrator of the esttate of the late William Springvald has been filed in county court. The estate is valued at $800 in real estate. His widow Hulda, is the sole surviving heir.

Petition For Administrator—A petition for appointment of an administrator of the estate of the late Richard J. Miller has been filed in county court here. The estate is valued at $160 in personal property. A widow, two daughters and a son survive.

Petition for Appointment—A petition for appointment of an administrator of the estate of the late Charles S. Hewitt, of Havelock, has been filed in county court. The value of the estate was not named. Heirs are his widow, son and daughter.

Attorneys Appeal Claims—Attorneys C. J. Campbell and Harry R. Ankeny have appealed their claims for services as special counsel for the county in the penitentiary-asylum loop paving district to the district court. Mr. Campbell asked for $3,500 and Mr. Ankeny for $1,000. Their claims were disallowed by the county commissioners.

Suit For Divorce—Mae Davis has filed a petition in district court for divorce from Daniel K. Davis. They were married at Springfield, Mo., in 1906, and have three children. Mrs. Davis alleges her husband deserted her in December, 1921. She declares that while she was living at Cheney with her children last August, Davis came there and asked for their youngest child and knocked his wife down. Non-support is also charged.

Auto Club Park Opens.—The Lincoln Automobile club at Saltillo, south of Lincoln on Twenty-seventh street opened March 1 to picnickers and tourists. The park will be open until November 1. Caretaker Dave Eisele is in charge of the grounds again this year and work has already begun to put the park in shape for large numbers of tourists this summer. Many new improvements are being made on the grounds, such as more and larger fire places, a club house and additional children's play grounds.

Verdict for Defendants—The jury in the trial of James M. Calhoun's suit against the Peerless Battery Manufacturing company, Jacob North and company and Arthur North returned a verdict in favor of the defendants. Calhoun, who lives at North Platte, sued for $4,500, which he invested for stock in the battery company, declaring the stock to be worthless. The note which Calhoun executed as payment for the stock came into the hands of North and company as security for a loan to the battery company, it was stated.

Four Fire Alarms—Sparks from a passing engine set fire to a wooden track terminal at the Burlington freight house, Eighth and R streets, Friday morning. No damage was done. Sparks from a bon fire blew under the porch at the home of Frank James, 2119 P street, causing a small blaze. Very little damage was done. A smal roof fire at the home of M. Seidman, 240 South Twentieth street, Thursday night, was extinguished by the fire department. The department also made a run to 1701 D street, where a flue was burning out.

Charges of Speeding—K. C. Kolb, 1340 D street, and E. L. Coryell, 1440 Washington street, are booked at the police station on speeding charges.

Suit For Services—Walker & Faulk has brought suit in county court against B. Clarence Hopewell for $100 for auditing the latter's personal bank account.

Check Up on Story.—Ed Anderson, who claims to have escaped from a government hospital at Sheridan, Wyo., Tuesday night, is being held at the police station, pending an investigation of his story by officers.

Asks for Administrator—A petition for appointment of an administrator of the estate of the late Mary E. Hellman has been filed in county court. The estate is valued at $4,000 in real estate and $400 in personal property. Heirs are three daughters and two sons.

Divorce Suit Tried—Trial of Lila L. Ritchie's suit for divorce from Ira J. Ritchie was held before District Judge W. M. Morning, who took the case under advisement. They were married at Burley, in 1902 and have three children, who are with their father at Wauneta. Cruelty was charged.

Cardboard License Taboo—The use of card-board license numbers, for a longer period than that prescribed by the state law, will be strictly prohibited in the future, according to Chief of Police Peter Johnstone. A number of garage men have been issuing the cardboard numbers without properly punching the date, the chief says. The offending garage owners will be prosecuted, he asserts, and will be held responsible for the acts of their employes, as well.

Nineteen persons served every twenty minutes in the Central Hotel Cafe's record for the entire month of February. In other words, 38,923 were served in the 28 days of February—or an average of 1,390 per day or 58 per hour during the 752 hours in the shortest month of the year. Compared with the first 28 days of January, the business increased 1,504 patrons served, or better than three per cent. Clean cooking in plain sight, good food cooked right, quick service, clean linen and cutlery, cheerful surroundings, and moderate prices make the Central's patronage grow month by month and day by day. There are, of course, other places to eat—but an increasingly large number find the Central just what they want. Remember the place—1325 P street.—Adv.

Want Two Hour Limit.—A petition for the extension of the two hour parking limit to include the west side of Ninth street from M to N streets, signed by seven business men along that street, was filed Friday. The petition recites that since the limit has gone into effect in other places, their business houses have been confronted with a group of cars parked solid for the day through and that they consequently have no means of doing business from the street.

Approves Petitions.—The city attorney has reported that the petitions for paving on Franklin avenue from Twenty-second to Twenty-sixth street, are sufficient and in proper form. The paving will be laid early this summer.

FORMER WIZARD IS NOT ALARMED

Clarke Says Can Clear Himself of Houston, Texas, Indictment.

Expected Trial Will Free Man Serving Ten Year Prison Term.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 2.-- While awaiting additional information concerning a arrant said to have been issued for his arrest in Houston, Tex., by a federal grand jury yesterday charging him with violation of the Mann act, E. Y. Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, maintains an attitude of confidence that he would be fully vindicated when the matter goes to trial.

It is simply another effort to attempt to discredit me and through discrediting me, damage the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," Clarke asserted. He said that he had received no details regarding the true bill returned against him.

Evidence May Free Prisoner.

(International News Service.)

HOUSTON, Tex., March 2.—Arrest in Atlanta of E. Y. Clarke, former Ku Klux Klan head, on an indictment returned here charging Mann white slave law violation, may be the means of releasing from prison Johnny Martin, now serving a ten-year sentence for his alleged participation in a bold daylight bank holdup, it developed today.

Martin is the brother of Miss Louise Martin, the woman in the case, and prosecution witness in the Clarke indictment. Martin's attorney, Harry C. Gerlach, announced this morning steps would be taken to secure Martin's release through facts that will brought forth in the expected prosecution of the Atlanta man.

LincolnOrchestra Plays for Prince

Gayle Grubb's Jazz Artists Make Big Hit at London Banquet.

The Southern Rugg-A-Jazz orchestra composed of seven former University of Nebraska students now playing at Rector's in London was a center of attraction at the dinner of the American University union at London Thursday which was attended by the Prince of Wales. The orchestra entertained and enlivened the 300 former American college students with jazz music. The members of the orchestra are Gayle Grubb Lincoln, piano Floyd Schultz, Lincoln, drums Leo Daugherty, Kearney, trombone; Morrell DoRan Lincoln, banjo; E. B. "Red" Cressell, Buffalo, N. Y violin; Robert LeRoy, York, trumpet, and Harold Peterson, Fremont, saxophone. All are members of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The young men left the United States last October for their engagement in England. This is the orchestra's second trip to the continent.

Dr. George E MacLean, former chancellor of the University of Nebraska occupied a table with the vice chancellors of London and Oxford universities.

Charges Of Watson Declared Unfounded

WASHINGTON, March 2.--The sensational chapter of senate history revolving around a charge by the late Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers ere executed without trial in France, was closed Thursday when the committee appointed to investigate, reported unanimously that it had found the charges unfounded.

It Started Something

"I have not said anything to you, but have been saying to others and have induced many to take your medicine and be convinced. May's Wonderful Remedy is correctly named. It removed stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once, which four doctors said would require an operation; also the bloating and indigestion" it is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Made a Citizen by Judge He "Licked" When Both Were Boys

(Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Will Roche, late of Waterford county, Ireland, is a citizen of the United States today thanks to the man he spanked many years ago, when both were boys.

Judge Michael Roche, no relation to Will, was sitting in federal court here yesterday afternoon, hearing naturalization cases when a man well past his prime appeared ith a petition for citizenship.

"What's your name and where are you from?" Judge Roche asked.

"Will Roche, and I'm from Waterford county, Ireland," was the reply.

"How's that?" the judge asked, and the answer was repeated.

Judge Roche swallowed hard, and, looked more closely.

"Your face looks familiar; I wonder if I didn't know you, said the judge presently.

"Sure," said Will. "You knew me well; I licked you once for teasing my father's bull."

The judge remembered.

Two Meet Death By Electrocution In State Prison

COLUMBUS, O., March 2.—Charles Arnold, 65, white, and Henry White, black met death in a double electrocution, at the Ohio prison early today Five applications of current were necessary before the negro was pronounced dead.

Arnold was convicted for murdering and robbing Mrs. Ruth Lawrence, landlady of a Columbus rooming house, on June 24, 1922.

As he sat in the death chair, he grinned at Patrolman Buck Remmert who arrested him and said:

"My God, Buck, are you here?"

Constantinople Dry Enforcement Is Off

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 2. — Prohibition in Constantinople has been postponed because the authorities recognize the difficulty of enforcing anti-liquor measures, while large allied military and naval forces are here. Prohibition was to have gone into effect here yesterday.

If You Are Having a New Hat Or a New Dress for Easter—

See the big March LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Among the new things shown in its fashion pages are:

The dress made of a shawl.
The sports dress with a cape back.
The new flounced frock.
The dress with a matching scarf.
The skirt with flat back and full front.
The dress with six pockets.

Two pages of French hats which a jury of great Paris milliners chose as best for spring. Irene Castle wears them.

Cables from The Journal's Paris office tell of lines and linings, sleeves, waistlines, colors, fabrics and trimmings.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL makes fashions:

The Journal sponsored the tight-waisted, bouffant-skirted frock, the bertha collar, the side-draped dress, the cape-backed dress and many others.

The Journal first brought to America the popular handkerchief mode.

If you buy your clothes ready-made, read The Journal's fashion news pages; if you make them, you can use its patterns with confidence.

Clothes that follow Journal fashions will be in style for at least two years.

The Hawkeye

Herbert Quick has written the big American novel of 1923.

A story of pioneers, fighting for life on the prairies; of marauding Indians; of bandits and boodling politics; of brave women and beautiful girls.

The Hawkeye is adventure and romance and history.

Don't miss the first of six generous installments, in the March Journal. . . . Read also:

Snake and Hawk, by Stephen Vincent Benet, illustrated in color by Wyeth.

The Harp and the Tripham-mer, by W. B. Pitkin.

Little Winged Birds So Happy, by Sophie Kerr.

And other stories by Zane Grey, Eleanor Hallowell Abbott, Corra Harris, Mateel Howe Farnham, Samuel Scoville.

All in the big March Journal.

Advertising the Church

Would an imitation stick of chewing gum lure you to go to church?

Would an invitation reading: "I Hope—2—C—U—There" entice you to a preaching service?

Yet these are the grotesque methods by which some ministers are advertising. Read Charles A. Selden's thoughtful article in the March Journal.

For housekeepers there are ten articles of intensely practical value, including:

Housekeeping in the Little House, Alice Van Leer Carrick.

Old Pennsylvania Dutch Cookery, Caroline B. King.

I Make French Pastry at Home, Florence Taft Eaton.

The Newest Kitchen Utensils.

Roasting and Toasting.

Colette Cooks with Bread.

There are forty new recipes.

Black Death

In Russia and in Poland pestilence and plague are taking millions of lives.

Typhus, cholera, bubonic plague, the aftermath of war, are bringing black death westward.

America is in danger!

United States Senator Royal S. Copeland tells what we must do to protect ourselves.

Beauty, the Fashions and the Follies, is an entertaining article by Florenz Ziegfeld. Do you know how he chooses his famous chorus of beauties?

Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer tells how the climbers bought their way into Society.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter contributes eight women's club programs of public service.

Other articles of note by Harry Emerson Fosdick, William Lyon Phelps and Walter Damrosch.

Agricultural News of Nebraska Counties

Gas Engine Institutes.

DAKOTA CITY—(By the Associated Press)—Two gas engine institutes will be held in Dakota City next week, with Mr. C. D. Kinsman, extension engineer of the college of agriculture in charge. These schools are to teach the operators of the small gasoline engine the principals involved in their operation. The specialist will furnish equipment consisting of lecture charts, carburetors, magnetos and other essential parts. Time will be given to studying the operations of both the four cycle and single cylinder gas engine. A portion of the time will be given over to lectures by the specialist and the remainder used in practical work on the engines. The school for the home care of the sick held last week under the direction of the county Farm Bureau, proved very helpful, according to C. H. Young, county agent. The precincts represented were Covington, Hubbard, Dakota, Emerson, and Omadi. Those taking advantage of the course will give schools in their precincts during the month of March. A second school will be held late in March, at which these same delegates will take advanced work.

New Club in Clay.

CLAY CENTER—Another livestock club has been organized in Clay county, eight boys of Eldorado forming the Blue Valley Livestock club. Three of these boys have purebred Holstein heifers, two will raise litters of pigs and three will feed baby beeves. The Fairfield Livestock club now has seventeen members. Most of these members are going to the Fairfield high school and plan to conduct their club so as to earn their school credits in animal husbandry. This year's Farm Bureau program calls for the starting of tests of seed corn which will last for several years. Cooperators are to be chosen in each community desirous of carrying on this work. The agent will select seed corn which conforms to the new utility type for the cooperator to plant in the field where he expects to raise his seed corn for next year. Enough of this seed will be taken to plant in a county corn variety test where the yields can be compared. In this way it is hoped to develope seed corn best adapted to Clay county that corresponds to the new type and also develop a man in each community who will produce the better type of seed corn for distribution.

Mix Own Mineral Feeds.

CLAY CENTER—Co-operative orders of minerals, which when mixed make mineral feeds for hogs, were received at Verona, Eldorado and Clay Center last week. When mixed together, there was about 12,000 pounds of hog powders for which local farmers are accustomed to paying from $6.50 to $10.00 per hundred pounds according to J. H. Claybaugh county agent. At Eldorado the farmers had the regular amount of salt and lime ready to add to the mixture, and 4,681 pounds were mixed and divided among eleven farmers at a cost of $3.50 per hundred pounds. Figuring the average saw Clay county Farm Bureau has made arrangements whereby the proper minerals in the right proportions needed for hog powders can be put on these six tons of mineral feeds at 3½ cents a pound, a total saving of $400 was realized. The chased in barrel lots at wholesale price ready be mixed and divided by the farmers themselves. Under this plan the farmers may eliminate or add what minerals they choose.

Have Orchard Demonstrations.

HEBRON—Six orchard and grape pruning demonstrations will be held in Thayer county, March 6—8. E. H. Hoppert, state extension agent in horticulture will conduct the demonstrations. While orchard and grapes are not a large feature of the farming in Thayer county, enough fruit should be raised to supply home use, says County Agent L. A. Christie. Mr. Christie is actively engaged in organizing boy's and girl's club work. He says that the work is to be completed mainly through the vacation period and that it will be along practical lines. The members are to be taught many useful things about agriculture and home economics. The clubs will include canning, clothing, cooking, keep well, poultry, baby beef, calf, swine, farm accounts, corn, garden and rope.

Local Federation Organized.

SCOTTSBLUFF—At a meeting held in Scotts Bluff county last week Guy Spurrier was elected Farm Bureau Director, Tom Polk, president, and Edwin Strachan, secretary of the Mitchell Valley Farm Bureau Federation local.

Albert Dakan educational secretary of the Colorado Beet Growers association, was present, and told of the condition of the Colorado association.

A very interesting and successful time was had last week in weighing and measuring the children in county district No 5, according to Phil Sheldon, County Agent. The women of the district were assisted by Miss Bores of the Farm Bureau federation office. Children from 1 to 7 per cent underweight were given blue cards. Those from 7 to 20 per cent were given red cards and those were average or above weight received white cards. Sixteen white cards, fourteen blue and twenty-one red were given out.

Plan Farmers' Institutes.

BLAIR—Old style farmer's institute schools will be held in different parts of Washington county wherever the people show an interest says Carl A. Olsen county agent. Farm accounting schools will be held with Prof. Taylor co-operating. These will be one day schools in different localities and women will be invited as well as men. March 13-16, orchard management schools will be held on the same plan. These will include demonstrations on pruning both trees and grape vines. There is considerable need of a revival of small farm orchards in this county, Mr. Olsen says. There is at present only one apple tree where there were four in years ago and five twenty years ago, he says. An increased number of apples are being bought outside the county.

Renewing Water Rights.

LEXINGTON—The farmers in the west end of Dawson county are making rapid strides in perfecting an organization to maintain their priority water rights which date back to the early nineties, says County Agent A. R. Hecht. The reason for the new interest is that their rights will be cancelled and given to other people unless the old ditches are operated again.

Petitions have been circulated and a majority of the land under the ditches has been signed for. This amounts to about 77,000 acres in Dawson county, 42,000 being in German, Blaine and Gillan precincts and the balance in Antelope and Fairview.

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

Mrs. A. Arceneaux of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin; and Mrs. Gus Anderson of Ball, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it is very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement

MANY THOUSANDS OF CROWS KILLED

Madison County Hunters Defeat Nimrods Of Antelope County.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 2.—Three hundred crow shooters, comprising the Madison and Antelope county teams which have been engaging in a contest for the last month, sat down to a banquet Wednesday night after more than 20,000 crows feet, trophies of the contest, had been counted by the judges. Madison counts was declared the winner by a margin of 151 birds killed, the final count standing Madison county, 6,564; Antelope, 6,413.

The banqueters decided to form an organization to assist state authorities in enforcing the game laws and to back up the efforts in the state legislature to secure passage of a crow bounty law.

The crow contest was declared to be the largest event of its kind ever pulled off in Nebraska.

Protest Against Any Tax Increase

(Special to the Star.)

McCOOK, Neb., March 2.—At the noonday luncheon of the McCook chamber of commerce the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Be it resolved by the McCook chamber of commerce that we respectfully protest against any action by the present legislature of the state of Nebraska tending to increase the burden of taxation upon the people of the state, and we ask that this legislature find means of reducing public expenditures, thereby diminishing taxation."

"Whereas we believe that the passage of House Roll 372 would be disastrous to the schools of Nebraska as a whole and to the schools of McCook in particular, therefore be it

"Resolved that we respectfully request our representatives and senator in the Nebraska legislature to not only vote against said bill, but to present to the legislature and to the educational committees who will investigate and report on said bill such facts as will enable them to know just how disastrously such legislation would affect the schools of McCook.

Nelson Pioneer Called By Death

(Special to The Star.)

NELSON, Neb., March 2.—Edward S. Kennedy died at the home of his daughter in Chicago, Monday and the body was brought here for burial Thursday beside his wife, who had preceded him some years. He was seventy-seven years old. Mr. Kennedy was one of Nelson's early business men, being engaged in the general merchandise business. He came to Nelson in 1881. He is the third one of the old grand army boys to die within the past week, County Judge E. D. Brown dying on Sunday morning, and ex-County Judge J. M. Hall a few days before. "Ed" Kennedy ran ran away from his home in Indiana and went into the civil war service in 1861 as a drummer boy when a lad of only fifteen and was in the service until 1864. The daughters survive him, Mrs. G. F. Greenwood, Chicago; and Mrs. Helen Spurck Henry, Kansas City.

Seward Car Taken By Joyriders Is Found Abandoned

The Ford coupe of Miss Nellie McNiff of Seward, Neb., which was stolen from in front of the Temple theatre Thursday night while she was attending a play, was recovered at 8 a. m., Friday at Nineteenth and E streets, where it had been abandoned by joy riders, it is believed by police. The car was not damaged.

Miss McNiff arrived in Lincoln Thursday and went to the play at the Temple Thursday night. She left the car at 8 p. m. and when she returned for it at 11 p. m., it was gone.

Mrs. Wilkens Says She Was Mistaken In Her Allegations

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., March 2.—Alleging that she had filed her petition for divorce upon misinformation concerning the conduct of her husband, and that she had since learned that there was no misconduct, Clara Wilkens in district court asked for a dismissal of the proceedings. Sensational charges were made in Mrs. Wilken' petition when it was filed several months ago. Wilkens is yardmaster for the Northwestern.

Find Arsenal In Home at Hastings

HASTINGS, Neb., March 2.—This is what Hastings policemen found when they broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Walters to arrest them and take them before the insanity commission:

A woman obviously not in her right mind, armed with a loaded gun pointed directly toward the entering officers.

Six rifles.
Five pistols.
Three shotguns.
Two bayonets.
One sword.
One German army knife.
One bowie knife.
A number of other knives.

Both husband and wife were adjudged insane after a hearing and were committed to Ingleside. Their one and one-half year old son was also taken to the state hospital pending word from the state board of control.

State Location For Auditorium

FREMONT, Neb., March 2.—Members of the city council came out with a definite statement that the Lindstrom lot, opposite the municipal plant and fronting on the city park, would be the site for the new auditorium, to cost $65 000, if the bond issue, on which voters will pass April 3, is carried. It has been contended that the indefinite matter of locations has contributed to the defeat of former auditorium projects.

Stewart Member Of Maher's Gang

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., March 2.—In discussing the shooting of Marty Maher in the railroad yards at Omaha the other night, a Rock Island special agent who visited the city Thursday to investigate some coal robberies, stated that Francis Stewart, who is now serving a life term in the state penitentiary for the murder of Charles Wolf here last November, was one-time a member of the Maher gang.

Red Willow Helps Near East Relief

(Special to the Star.)

McCOOK, Neb., March 2.—Red Willow county is preparing to ship a carload of corn east for the near east relief, making the second carload of aid from this county. Corn will go forward from Lebanon, Danbury and Marion sharing in the shipment. Other shipments announced by Mr. Varnebedian are the equivalent of a carload of wheat from Beaver City donated by Furnas county and a carload of flour from the Curtis mills, the wheat donated by Frontier county citizens.

Tobias to Receive Electric Current

(Special to the Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., March 2.—Employes of the Nebraska Gas and Electric company of this city are building a line from Plymouth to Tobias, and as soon as it is completed, current will be furnished the later place from the Beatrice plant. The little town of Adams, northeast of here, is also figuring on building a line to Pickrell, connecting up with the line from this city which furnishes juice for that place.

PARENT-TEACHERS CLUB.

BEATRICE, Neb., March 2.—A parent-teachers' association was organized Wednesday evening by the Central and East school at a well attended meeting of parentsand teachers of these schools.

Missing Lincoln Girls Are Brought Back From Omaha

OMAHA, Neb., March 2.—Three fourteen year old Lincoln girls were taken into custody here Thursday by police officers. The girls gave their names as Verna Hull, Virginia McCallahan and Ramona Kneer, and according to their story at the police station, they were on their way to Des Moines, from which place they planned to go to Newton, Ia., where the Hull girl said she had an uncle.

The girls had 20 cents between them when found and said that they were brought to Omaha in an automobile by two men, according to detectives. The girls said, according to the officers, that they thought they could pick up enough rides along the route to get to their destination in a day or two. Lincoln authorities were notified.

According to Captain Walter Anderson, chief of detectives the girls were returned to Lincoln and taken to their homes Thursday night.

Leland Towle Is Married at Daykin

(Special to The Star.)

DAYKIN, Neb., March 2.—Miss Irene Jacobs, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William Jacobs of Daykin was married Thursday afternoon to Leland M. Towle of Lincoln. The bride is a graduate of the Fairbury high school, class of 1918, and later attended the University of Nebraska. At present she is a teacher at Bethany. Mr. Towle graduated from the University of Nebraska and was for a time in the U. S forestry service. At present he is manager of the local office of the U. S. Veterans bureau. Mr. and Mrs Towle will make Lincoln their home.

To Have Tests of Gas For Fremont

FREMONT, Neb., March 2.—Definite announcement has been made by the local gas company that it will purchase a calorimeter with the object in view of improving Fremont's supply of gas. This action by the company will save the city the cost of such a machine. Members of the council had been discussing the advisibility of securing apparatus with which to test the gas.

Loss of Bank Tax Works a Hardship

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., March. 2.—A decision of the supreme court that banks be permitted to pay one-fourth personal tax assessed against them for 1922 will deplete the county county funds of $16,000. Of this amount $10,000 comes from Fairbury.

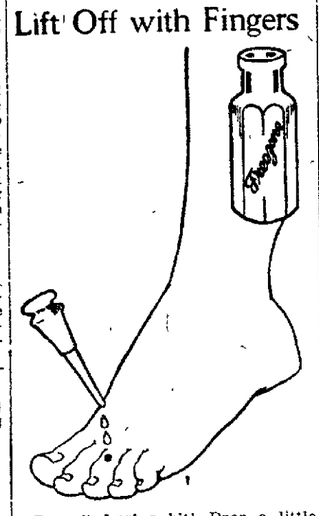

This decision will overdraw all school and city accounts unless arrangements are made to meet the deficit by borrowing money.

Most of the banks of Fairbury and Jefferson county contend that they should pay the full amount and that the intangible tax act should be repealed before the Nebraska legislature adjourns.

Two banks of Jefferson paid in full without protest.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

is candy-like Cascarets. One or two tonight will empty your bowels completely by morning and you will feel splendid. "They work while you sleep." Cascarets never stir you up or gripe like Salts, Pills, Calomel, or Oil and they cost only ten cents a box. Children love Cascarets too.—Advertisement.

Jury Finds Auto Driver Is Guilty Of Manslaughter

RED OAK, Ia., March 2.—James R. Hodges was found guilty of manslaughter, by the Montgomery county jury. The verdict was returned at 11 o'clock last night.

Hodges was tried in connection with the death of Mrs. Aaron Anderson, who was burned to death last June after the automobile in which she was riding was struck by the one being driven by Hodges.

Hodges' companion, Mrs. Lucille McMichael, was the chief witness for the state. She testified that Hodges was driving seventy miles an hour shortly before his car crashed into the one occupied by Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson died within a week from burns sustained when he attempted to save his wife.

Dr. Klotche Not to Lose His Eyesight

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., March 2.—While Dr. E. Klotche's eye sight will be permanently impaired to some extent, he will not lose his eye and will probably not have to undergo a serious surgical operation, according to word from the Methodist hospital in Omaha. Dr. Klotche was rushed to Omaha for treatment after his eyeglasses smashed against his eyes in an automobile collision while he was riding with Water Commissioner Fred Burrell.

CHANGE IN BANK.

(Special to The Star.)

REYNOLDS, Neb., March 2.—James Simmons, a pioneer resident of Reynolds, has acquired an interest in the Farmers bank of Reynolds. Roscoe H. Vance his son-in-law from Bladen, is the new cashier. A. H. Bothwell is still connected with the bank in an advisory capacity. Mr. Vance was formerly connected with one of the banks at Washington, Kas.

DAVID GABEL DEAD.

BEATRICE, Neb., March 2.—David Gabel, one-time resident of the Plymouth vicinity, passed away at his home near Denver, according to word received here. The father of the deceased, David Gabel, sr., loctaed in Canada some years ago.

TRAGEDY CLOSING CHAPTER OF ORGY

Police Say Woman Murdered Man and Then Took Own Life.

Couple Were Stage People Well Known in Frisco and the East.

MANILA, March 2.—Police investigation of the dual death of George B. Baldwin, San Francisco actor, composer and singer, and Mrs. Anna M. Schlesinger, singer and former San Francisco favorite, today gave rise to the belief that Baldwin was murdered by the woman, who then took her own life.

The tragedy is pitiful. It was discovered when a Filipino "muchacho" or room boy, crawled through a window of Mrs. Schlesinger's apartment at the Luneta hotel to shut off an open tap from which water was leaking into an apartment below.

It was the closing chapter, police learned, of an orgy betweeen the woman and Baldwin, lasting for several weeks. Baldwin was clasped in the dead arms of the woman. They were the victims of a powerful poison.

Suicide Pact Considered.

At first a suicide pact was considered probable, but further investigation caused the police today to believe it to be murder and suicide. Baldwin, a composer of note, came to the far east as musical director of the Frawley-Blood theatrical company, but left the company here as a result of his alleged dissipation. He renewed his acquaintance with the Schlesinger woman, whom he had known in San Francisco.

Thhey quarreled, police learned, last Saturday night, at a party. Tuesday Mrs. Schlesinger called him to her apartment, police believe. In an effort to patch up their quarrel and to dissuade him from going to Baguio, where he had an engagement to sing at the Pines hotel.

Police believe, however, the quarrel was renewed, as guests at dinner overheard him upbraid the woman severely. Police believe this aroused a cunning anger in the woman and when she poured out the last drinks from two quarts of Scotch whisky, which they had consumed in her apartment, she poured in the deadly poison. When Baldwin fell dead diagonally across the bed she drank the remaining deadly potion herself, embracing her lover's still-warm body as life ebbed.

ALBANY, N. Y.—A bill to license stock brokers and providing for regulation of the New York stock exchange was provided yesterday by the senate.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Advertisement.

It's so easy to shop at this store no matter where you live

ONE of the most appreciated services of this store is our Personal Service Bureau, with Vera Mills in charge, who shops personally with out-of-town patrons, or for them, by mail.

SO well has this department served its patrons that its capacity has been trebled within four years. We now serve and keep in touch with considerably over 6,000 regular out-of-town patrons through this Personal Service Bureau.

MAIL orders are not merely filled here---every item is actually SHOPPED FOR, in a personal manner, by Vera Mills and her assistants as carefully and conscientiously as if buying the articles for personal use. Out-of-town people who trade at Rudge & Guenzel Company, by mail or telephone, know their requests are in capable hands and feel assured of permanent satisfaction.

A RECENT survey of the scope of the territory covered by our Personal Service Bureau reveals the interesting fact that mail orders come to us from remarkable distances, most of them from Nebraska, of course. For instance, during December we filled orders coming from---

Nebraska	Wyoming
Missouri	South Dakota
Kansas	North Dakota
Iowa	California
Colorado	Wisconsin
Montana	Minnesota
Idaho	Oklahoma
Texas	Arkansas

WE have also shipped orders to New York, Chicago, New Orleans, and to Canada, Cuba, South America, Hawaii and the Philippines.

NO matter where you live, you may enjoy the advantages of trading with us by mail through Vera Mills and our Personal Service Bureau. Out-of-town customers, especially, find this a most delightful and convenient way to trade with us; and, Vera Mills is always on hand to help them when they are here in person.

WE invite you and your friends to make this store your store.

The Winning Recipes.

The winning recipes are as follows:

Scalloped salmon (Mrs Emil Prochaska)—Butter a baking dish, lay a layer of salmon in the bottom cover with a rich white sauce and sprinkle with soft bread crumbs Continue layers until dish is full finishing with layers of bread crumbs moistened in melted butter. Bake until a rich brown, Cover with pie tin fifteen minutes before serving and stand in warming oven Sauce Two tablespoons butter, melted; 2 tablespoons flour 1 pint milk and cream mixed Season with salt and pepper and cook until thick

Scalloped salmon (Mrs H L Fabrique)—One can salmon, ½ cup cracker or bread crumbs Prepare a thick cream sauce, doubling the quantity of butter, usually given Season with mustard, celery seed nutmeg, ground cloves and allspice, a little red pepper and salt Cover the bottom of a buttered baking dish with salmon flaked and freed from bones. Cover with a layer of cream sauce Alternate with salmon and cream sauce until the dish is full Sprinkle the top thickly with fine crumbs, dot with butter and bake.

Honorable Mention

The foowing recipes received honorable mention

Scalloped salmon (Mrs Lydia Gleim)—One can salmon broken in pieces; 1 dozen crackers, 1¼ cups sweet milk; 1 egg Put a layer of crackers broken fine in baking dish then bits of butter, then a layer of salmon, a little sprinkle of salt and pepper Alternate the layers until salmon and crackers are used, putting crackers on top with bits of butter Pour over this milk with egg beaten into it and bake twenty or thirty minutes

Scalloped salmon (Mrs E J Fridrich)—Shred 1 can of salmon Place in a baking dish in layers: first, a layer of rolled cracker crumbs, then one of salmon, butter, salt and pepper. Repeat until dish is nearly filled Then take a tablespoon each of butter and flour beaten well together and stir it into a cup of boiling milk. When thoroughly cooked, stir in a beaten egg Pour this over dish and bake When nicely browned it is done

Scalloped salmon and potatoes (Mrs. G. B. Sallores)—Remove all the bones from a can of salmon, take 3 times the quantity of cold boiled potatoes cut in dice. Butter a baking dish. Put in a layer of potatoes, then a layer of salmon. Season with a little butter and pepper, and sprinkle with flour. Continue until all the salmon and potatoes are used Cover with rich milk; sprinkle with fine bread or cracker crumbs Dot with bits of butter. Bake thirty minutes in a rather hot oven.

Scalloped salmon (Mrs. H. C. Schumann)—One can of salmon (Pour off the liquor, pick out the bones and skin and mix smoothly); 3 cups cracker crumbs; salt and pepper Butter a baking pan and put in a layer of salmon, then a layer of cracker crumbs over which sprinkle some salt, pepper and bits of buter. Add another layer of salmon and cracker crumbs and pour over enough milk to come to the edge of the contents and bake. When baked, dish out, garnish with parsley and serve. The following tomato sauce is very good served with escalloped salmon: Boil 1 pint of canned tomatoes with 1 cup of water and several slices of onion acording to taste. After cooking ten or fifteen minutes rub through a sieve, pulp and all, except seeds Blend a large tablespoon of butter with flour in a frying pan, ad the tomato juice and make a cream-like sauce, season well, cook thoroughly and serve hot in a gravy bowl.

Scalloped salmon (Mrs William Kenney)—Boil 3 large potatoes until nearly done, let cool and slice. Place a layer of salmon in the bottom of a buttered baking dish, add a layer of sliced potatoes and so on until all are used, seasoning with salt, pepper and bits of buter as you put in each layer, also dredge very lightly with flour. Have potatoes on top Add the salmon liquor and pour over 1 pint of hot milk and bake in a hot oven twenty or twenty-five minutes

Scalloped salmon (Mrs E H Stech)—One and one half cups salmon, 3 tablespoons sweet pickles, chopped fine, 1 tablespoon lemon juice ½ cup cracker crumbs; 1 egg 1-4 teaspoon paprika, ½ teaspoon melted butter. Pick the salmon apart with a fork and add the pickles, lemon juice, cracker crumbs, egg, paprika, salt and milk, using a fork for mixing Place in a well buttered baking dish Melt the butter, add the fresh crumbs and spread evenly over the top Bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven

Scalloped salmon (Mrs A. McCampbell)—Break ½ cup spaghetti into short pieces, cover with boiling, salted water and boil until tender, about twenty minutes Free 1 can of salmon from the bones and the skin. Lay in layers in a baking dish alternating with the spaghetti Pour over all 1 cup thin white sauce: One tablespoon flour; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 cup milk seasoned well with salt and pepper and 1 tablespoon lemon juice Cover with buttered crumbs and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven.

Scalloped salmon (Mrs A. Whitmer)—Make a white sauce, using a pint of milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper to suit taste Set aside to cool Open a large can of salmon, removing the bones very carefully Flake it finely with a silver fork Butter baking dish and into it lay a layer of crisp corn flakes, then a layer of salmon, and over this pour some of the sauce. Alternate in this order until all ingredients are used, the cornflakes being on top Bake from twenty to thirty minutes in a medium hot oven and serve with baked potatoes

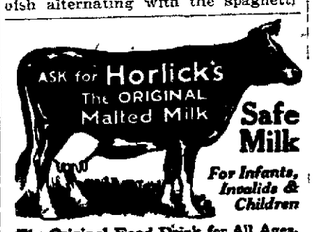

Scalloped salmon (Mrs J S Mendenhall)—One can salmon, 1 tablespoon melted butter; salt; 2 eggs, 1 cup cracker crumbs. Drain oil from salmon and set aside for sauce. Mix ingredients well and bake in a vessel set in pan of water to prevent hard crust forming. Sauce: Two tablespoons flour; 2 tablespoons butter, sour pickle or juice or 1 lemon, 1 egg. Rub butter and flour together, add a little hot water and then the fish oil, beaten egg and chopped pickle or lemon juice Cook a few minutes just enough to thicken to smooth consistency Pour over salmon and serve while hot.

Scalloped salmon (Mrs H L Laursen)—One pound can flaked salmon, 1½ cups white sauce; 1½ cups white sauce; 1 1-2 cups mashed potato; 1-4 cup buttered crumbs. Arrange the salmon and sauce in layers in a well greased baking dish. Cover with mashed potatoes and bread grumbs Bake until heated throughout and crumbs are browned on top Any kind of cooked fish may be flaked and prepared in this way. Layers of boiled onions or green peas may be used in the recipe

Muffin Recipes Called for Next

THE GREATER LOVE

A New Romance by Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Author of Nation-Wide Reputation and Writer of Popular Novels and Short Stories

CHAPTER CIV.

The rain had stopped.

That was Kenneth Lang's first thought as he awakened on the morning after his night ride from Southold.

The persistent downpour that had continued for so many days had at last ceased. The sun was struggling through the clouds.

"Praise Heaven!" Kenneth exclaimed, sitting up.

Then he groaned with the stiffness of his limbs. He would have been glad to turn over for a longer rest, but the necessity of the talk with Walsh would make sleep impossible. Moreover, there was no time to lose.

After bathing and dressing, he ate his breakfast and called up Henry Dobson on the telephone. It was too early to find him at the bank.

Briefly, Lang asked the president to defer any action in the matter which the pair had discussed yesterday until they had conferred again.

"I may add that my expedition was successful," the younger man said. "I will see you later and explain matters. Just now I have an errand to attend to uptown."

"All right!" Dobson said. "So long!"

Having made sure that a discreet silence would be maintained at the bank, Kenneth telephoned to Mr. Walsh, asking for a private interview.

The rich man had just finished his breakfast and would see Lang at the house or at the office, as he preferred.

Lang preferred the office. From Walsh's cordial manner, he fancied that the father hoped his prospective caller wished to talk to him of Victoria. As he did—but hardly as the parent expected.

At 10 o'clock the office boy ushered Mr. Kenneth Lang into the millionaire's office.

"Good morning," Walsh said, grasping Kenneth's hand. "Sit down! Have a cigar! Norris"—to his secretary—"you may wait outside until I send for you. By the way I have some accounts I want you to balance this morning."

He started to open a drawer of his desk but thought better of it.

"There will be time enough for that after a while," he said. "I will explain to you about it then."

"Yes, sir," the secretary said, meekly, then withdrew.

All James Walsh's employes were obsequious in their bearing towards the self-made man. Lang supposed it was because the employer was rich and was overbearing in his manner.

"Are you sure you won't smoke?" Walsh suggested again as the door closed behind Norris.

"Thanks, no," Lang replied. "I seldom smoke as early in the day as this. Moreover, I have an important matter to talk to you about, and prefer not to smoke while doing so."

James Walsh eyed him curiously. He had never seen Kenneth look as grave as he did this morning. Moreover he was pale, and there were dark rings under his eyes. Could it be that Victoria had refused him? Was that why she had gone off on a visit at this juncture—to escape her parents' anger when they should learn that she had disregarded their wishes? And—had Lang come to ask him to intercede with Victoria? Yet—Lang was not the kind of man to do that.

"Well?" Walsh said with an effort to speak naturally. "What can I do for you? By the way, I suppose you know that Vickey is away on a visit?"

"Yes—I know it."

"We—my wife and myself—were disappointed when we found that the child had taken the train yesterday. She should have told me of her plans. But I suppose they were made at the last moment. She left a letter for her mother saying she had gone to spend a few days with a friend—and would write us today. But she never told us who the friend was—forgot to, I suppose. My wife is sure it is Lydia Hastings—for Polly—Vic's maid—said Vickey took the noon train east. And that is the train she takes when she goes to visit Lydia."

Kenneth cleared his throat. This man was talking so fast and nervously that it would be hard to stem the flow of his eloquence.

Yet his garrulity proved two things to Kenneth. One was that he did not suspect that Victoria had gone away with Travers. The man could not conceive the possibility of his daughter's defying him to this extent.

The second thing his cheerful volubility proved was that James Walsh had not yet inspected his vouchers, returned by the bank. Therefore he knew nothing of Travers' action.

Kenneth Lang must enlighten him as to both these calamities.

"And now," Walsh was saying, "what did you want to talk to me about?" Kenneth set his teeth. He must face the music.

"First of all, about Victoria, Mr. Walsh. She was married last evening to Sam Travers."

(To Be Continued Monday.)

National Electric Light Association Meets at St. Louis

The middle west division of the National Electric Light association, comprised of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, will hold its 1923 annual convention at St. Louis, April 11 and 12. The meeting will be attended by the officers of the national association and by the outstanding leaders in the industry. It is expected that twenty-five electrical men from Nebraska will attend the convention. O. J. Shaw, manager of the Lincoln Traction company, and J. B. Hill, manager of the Lincoln Gas and Electric Light company, will represent Lincoln. Horace M. Davis of Lincoln is the secretary-treasurer of the organization and in charge of arrangements for the convention.

Second Trial at Herrin Under Way

MARION, Ill., March 2—The second Herrin mine riots case in which six men are on trial, charged with murder entered the begining of its last stages today with the delivery of the opening statements of the prosecution and defense, following completion of the jury yesterday.

ANNUAL DINNER OF Y. W. GIRLS' CLUBS

Two Hundred Enjoy Social Evening—Officers Are Nominated.

Members of the four Federated Girls' clubs of the Y. W. C. A. met for the annual dinner and social evening at the Grand hotel Thursday evening. Two hundred girls were seated at several long tables, on which the St. Patrick's day colors were used in the appointments. Throughout the room, the pillars were bound in green and white and the lights, from which shamrocks were suspended, were shaded in green. Each club had bright distinctive caps for its members.

Miss Grace Preece read the report of the nominating committee of the federation. She announced the following officers for the coming year: Miss Sadie Ferris, president; Miss Mollie Engle, vice president; Miss Frances White, secretary; Miss Elsie Courtwright, treasurer.

Preceding the program of toasts and music, for which Miss Jutta Ebmeyer was toastmistress, the guest sang the association song "Follow the Gleam." Devotions were led by Miss Esther Deffenbaugh. During the dinner, the girls sang their club songs and gave yells for the club and the secretaries.

The theme of the toast list was the letters Y. W. C. A., each one having a special interpretation. Mrs. Cora F. Warner, general secretary of the association, spoke on Y, which was interpreted to mean You. Her toast was in verse form. The W was given by Miss Agnes Ullman to mean Will and C meant Come to Miss Alice Harding, who gave the third toast. A was given by Miss Frances White as Again and Miss Alma Mortenson gave a toast on girls.

Mrs. B. F. Williams spoke informally to the gathering, saying that she regretted that lack of space had made it necessary to have the dinner outside of the association building, but that the board of directors realized the inadequacies of the present building. Mrs. Williams added that the directors had long been planning for a larger building, and it was hoped that work could begin within the year.

The evening closed with a playette, "The Spinsters' club," in which the cast was composed of federation members. Appearing in the act were little Irma Nell Waldo, who danced, and Miss Clara McDermond, who gave a reading.

What "Pure Soap" means to your complexion

The other day we were talking with a young woman who had been recently graduated from a well-known women's college.

"One of the experiments in our chemistry course," she said, "was the analysis of Ivory Soap. We all made the experiment together, and found that Ivory Soap was as pure as it is possible for a soap to be."

The head of the Domestic Science Department of another great college told her classes last year that Ivory was "the purest soap you can buy."

But millions of women who have never seen a chemical laboratory or taken a course in domestic science have discovered Ivory's purity through actual daily use on their faces.

To the chemist Ivory's purity means a perfect balance of the finest soap ingredients, and freedom from all adulterants such as artificial coloring matter, medicines, et cetera.

To the woman who uses Ivory, its purity means mildness, gentleness, and safety for the loveliest complexion.

There are those who still believe that certain kinds of soaps can perform miracles upon the complexion.

But both science and experience have proved that the only miracle which may be expected from any soap is the miracle of healthful, refreshing cleanliness. That miracle Ivory Soap has performed upon millions of lovely complexions since 1879.

PROCTER & GAMBLE

IVORY SOAP

99 44/100% PURE IT FLOATS

"Oh, dear, I've forgotten my soap," cries pretty Bee Westbrooke.

Instantly help comes from all sides.

Mrs. Westbrooke, who is chaperoning the party, offers her cake of Ivory.

"Here's my Guest Ivory,"* says Sally Jollyco.

And from the hotel bathroom comes Elsie Benson's voice: "Why worry? Here's Ivory in the soap holder already."

No one happens to notice little Mona Folderol as she furtively puts back into her bag a cake of her aunt's brightly colored, heavily perfumed "beauty soap."

*"Guest Ivory"—the daintiest little cake of soap you can imagine—"as fine as a soap can be." Ask your grocer or druggist about it. It is new!

Yes, Nurse Tippit is going to be married!

And what do you suppose she is doing in this picture?

Here we see her trying on the dress Mrs. Jollyco has given her for the wedding, which has been washed fresh as new in Ivory Soap suds—rustling white taffeta, filmy chiffon, precious lace, and all!

We have an idea that Teewee's present to Tippit will be a dozen cakes of Ivory Soap. There are few gifts she would prize more.

"The School Board meets tonight," says Mrs. Jollyco, ending her first talk to the high school students as a board-member, "and it will be my duty to present your answer to this question:

"What kind of soap do you want?"

"Ivory!" The shout almost shakes the ceiling.

Perhaps there are other still, small votes, but—

"It seems," says the speaker, smiling, "that the 'I's' have it!"

For delicate garments—Read this Safety Test

Before you trust your costly fine fabrics to any soap in any form, a doubt naturally comes up in your mind.

"Is this soap really safe?"

Ask yourself: "Would I be willing to use this soap on my face?"

A soap which is too strong for your face is naturally too strong for your delicate and costly garments.

Ivory Flakes is simply Ivory Soap in flake form. Of course it fully meets this important safety test.

For Ivory Soap, pure, mild, gentle, white—has protected the faces and hands of millions of women since 1879.

Ivory Flakes offers you a real margin of safety for cleansing the very finest garments you own.

What To Eat — Where To Get It — How To Cook It

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Should Come Again

Dear Minerva: To come right down to rock-bottom, a letter like Jack's does more harm than good, because it is sure to impress some as an attack upon a class he chooses to designate sneeringly as chronic reformers, mischief-makers, and purveyors of gloom, and if I may be pardoned for saying so, I think the term mischief-maker could be applied quite as appropriately to those who are doing all in their power to foment hatred for those who shape public opinion along sane lines. Some who consider the Volstead law as unnecessary legislation, because it interfered with their right to build up their own fortunes through pandering to the depraved appetite of a debased class, a class easily victimized on account of weak wills and warped morals.

I think Jack shoud come again and explain his ideas more clearly. His letter leaves too much room for misunderstanding, as it now stands, for it sounds so much like a personal liberty argument, or attempt to flay those who worked for prohibition, especially as he plays up wet England against dry Chicago. It's too much like covering John Barleycorn's bier with flowers, and then concealing the flowers under the gossamer tissue of oratorical eloquence.

If those who are endeavoring to stir up sentiment against prohibition workers ever succeed, as Jack darkly threatens in "rounding up all the reformers and tossing them overboard," they may go may go through the farce of washing their hands, as Pilate did, but the blood will be upon their souls regardless of the hypocritical ceremony of ablution, and God will hold them to account. IRENE

Be Prudent or Desperate.

Dear Minerva: I am very puzzled over a case I am a married woman with a family of five children. I have a friend who has four children. We have been friends for a great many years, we had our babies at near the same time, and have meant a great deal to each other. Now, I am much troubled over her She and her husband are almost never together any more, and she has been seen many times with other men, usually one man in particular. One of my daughters saw her twice and my husband once Everyone is talking about it.

Her husband looks so worn and worried. He is a splendid, hard-working man and he has never said a word of complaint. Now would he He isn't that sort of a man. But to anyone who knows him well as we do it is plainly seen that he is nearly beside himself with worry

Now, what should I do? Should I have a talk with her and tell her what she is doing?

Or should I leave her alone?

Can I afford to continue as her intimate friend? I have a grown daughter, and sons in high school, as indeed she has too I cannot afford to be talked about What should I do?

A TROUBLED FRIEND.

A. You can be prudent and follow a safe but perhaps selfish course if you wish. No one could blame you for doing so. You could argue, with the French proverb which says, "Don't put your finger between the tree and the bark, you'll get scratched." You can comfort yourself that it is none of your business and that you have your own family to look after and cannot afford to get involved in anyone else's troubles

Or you can remember your long years of friendship and make one desperate attempt to save her from ruin. This, providing of course, you are sure of your facts, and not taking hearsay to heart. Remember, you are very likely to lose her friendship, either way. But in this latter course, you may be able to show her the folly of her ways as she has not seen them before Very few people take reproof well and it isn't likely that she will. On the other hand your your words might be just what she needs to rouse her out of her stupor

I think I would chance it if I were you

Covets Pretty Baubles

Dear Minerva: I am a young married woman. My husband makes good money, better really than that made by most of my friends. But he has some funny ideas which worry me. All the girls I go with have had their engagement rings reset in platinum and usually smaller diamonds added in the cluster effect. Also they have lovely little wrist watches and beautiful fur chokers. Now, we could afford those things really better than they. But my husband thinks it is foolish to spend our money that way and insists on investing it all. He doesn't get the feminine viewpoint at all I feel really ashamed when my friends display their pretty things given them by their husbands and I have nothing to show. I am just wild for a new ring.

Now, Minerva, don't you think a man should try to make his wife happy in these things? They are frivolous, of course, but just such things make a woman happy. Or do you think me foolish.

He is a good husband, of course, and provides me with everything he thinks I need. BABE.

A. Personality I cannot believe a bauble to be worth the worry you are giving it. No matter how lovely it may be. And if you are honest, you must confess to yourself that you want these things not so much for their beauty but for the effect it will have on your feminine friends; so you can hold your own at the bridge party.

It is nice to have such luxuries when they are well afforded. But, too often, their cost is entirely too great—cost not only in actual money, but in worry, in hard work for the husband, in unpaid bills, in unsaved money, in sacrificing things more greatly needed.

You should really be proud of your thrifty, ambitious husband. He has vision and foresight. You say so casually that "he is a good husband, of course, and provides you with all you really need."

You should not take this so very much for granted but should be more appreciative of the things he does for you, and think of those he feels he cannot afford

Don't covet All the new ring could possibly give you would be a temporary pleasure which would soon give way to some new desire, some new envy.

Hiccough Alarms Doctors Attending Kaysee Sick Man

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—Hiccoughing, which has continued more than 100 hours, today imperiled the life of Charles Tewson here. No remedy has been discovered by attending physicians who declare the hiccoughing is caused by acute diaphragmic pleurisy and pneumonia.

League Conclave Promises Battle

BISMARCK, N. D., March 2.—Future control of the Fargo Courier News, official publication of the non-partisan league, and a demand for the retirement of William Lemke, long an active leader of the organization are expected to be the most important matters that will come before the state convention of the league, which started here today

ENDORSE A NEW POST IN CABINET

Resolution Is Passed Backing National Department of Education.

(Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., March 2.—Thousands of educators were leaving for home today while thousands of others remained another day to inspect local schools and colleges, following the adjournment last night of a five day convention of the department of superintendents of the national education association.

The delegates last night unanimously adopted the resolutions committee report which endorsed the Sterling-Towner bill to create a national department of education with a secretary of education in the president's cabinet. The new platform requests generous support for public schools

A speech on immigrant education by Edward A. Steiner, professor of sociology in Grinnell college, Iowa in which he denounced schemes to Americanize the foreign born by force and criticised some employers of labor, featured last night's meeting.

American Delegates Go to Dry Concave, Congress' Decision

WASHINGTON, March 2. — Proposed appropriation of $7,500 to meet the expenses of an American delegation to the forthcoming international congress against alcoholism at Copenhagen threatened for a time last night to bring a wet and dry division in the senate. The proposal submitted as an amendment to the third deficiency appropriation bill, finally was adopted without a record vote.

Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York asked what was the necessity for a delegation from an already sufficiently dry country and Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, suggested the impossibility of obtaining in the United States delegates who could qualify as experts before the congress. Senator Stanley, democrat Kentucky, declared the delegation would be of immense value if it could demonstrate "the dangers of prohibition" o the Copenhagen meeting.

The COFFEE that is universally liked

Butter-Nut coffee plays no favorites.

Good enough for the most critical, cheap enough for the most economical.

There is no economy in cheap coffee. The cost per cup is too little to risk the final outcome of any meal. Good cream and sugar and a good meal demand the best in coffee.

A 5-cent saved in coffee might spoil the family's meal.

Butter-Nut
"The Coffee Delicious"

For real vigor, yet that indescribable deliciousness, flavor and fragrance, Butter-Nut is economy with a forethought.

A Woman's Spring Fancy

turns to—Spring Cleaning—to cooking something new to tempt Spring appetites and to a new Spring Bonnet.

Benjamin Franklin invented the broom, and put the best Spring cleaning weapon in her hand. Franklin invented the cook-stove and made it possible for her to cook more quickly, more conveniently and better.

And now

Nucoa

The Wonderful Spread for Bread

comes along and gives her a cooking medium that ensures a new flavor and richness to tempt jaded appetites and makes it possible for her to save enough in a short while for the new Spring Hat. For Nucoa, though finest in Quality, costs just half as much as the highest priced Spread.

Nucoa is made from the fat of the snow-white meat of the cocoanut There is no nut taste—just a delicate, delicious, ever freshness that delights as a Spread for bread and for all dainty dishes.

N. B. The new Spring vegetables seasoned with Nucoa take on a new and sweeter flavor. For a tempting dessert today—Cream ½ cup Nucoa with 1½ cups powdered sugar, until light and fluffy. Add 1 cup strawberries slightly crushed. Chill—and serve on plain cake—uum—it's better than ice cream!

SENATE DECISION ON COURT FINAL

Explanations By Harding Followed By Committee Reaffirming Stand.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 2. — The decision not to act at this session of congress on President Harding's proposal for American membership in the international court of justice was re-affirmed by the senate foreign relations committee today after it had received a further explanation of the administration's purpose from President Harding and Secretary Hughes.

Complies With Request.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Harding complied today with the senate's request for more information concerning the administration's plan for entering the permanent court of international justice at The Hague, set up under the league of nations. He informed the senate that the United States has no intention of entering the court on a basis of compulsory arbitration of all international disputes, that he contemplated negotiations with other powers in this regard and that American adherence will not obligate the United States under the treaty of Versailles.

The president's notification to the senate was contained in a brief letter to Senator Lodge, republican, of Massachusetts, transmitting a lenghty communication which Secretary Hughes had addressed to the president himself.

Mr. Harding merely transmitted the Hughes letter in which the secretary of state took up in detail the questions propounded by the foreign relations committee at its session on Tuesday. The senate's first query asked whether he (the president) favors an agreement obligating all powers who are signers of the "protocol creating the court to submit all questions" to the court.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood - cell builders, blood - cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes: "My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

Sheriff Repulses Enraged Mob Bent On Lynching Man

PALATKA, Fla., March 2.—Eleven members of a mob were captured today and lodged in the Alachua jail after being repulsed by Sheriff Hagan when they attempted to storm the Putnam county jail here and get a negro prisoner.

More than fifty shots were fired by the mob into the jail, one striking Sheriff Hagan in the left hand. The sheriff slammed the jail door in the face of the crowd, which retreated after shooting through the doors and windows. A fifty foot rope was left behind.

WEATHER STOPS 'Q' ICE HARVEST

Cutting and Storing Year's Crop Only Half Done By Burlington.

The Burlington ice harvest was interrupted by the sudden return of warm weather this week and unless the early March weeks bring much lower temperatures, the amount of ice harvested by that road in the Nebraska district will be materially less than usual.

The total ice in the Nebraska district for the past year was 71,648 tons. To date only 42,458 tons have been cut and stored. At the Lincoln station the record last year was 22,636 tons, while so far this winter only 8,871 tons have been harvested. At the Omaha stations the report last year was 26,528 tons while for the winter to date only 15,000 tons are stored.

The cutting was stopped rather abruptly when the temperatures mounted early this week and several nights of severe cold will be necessary to repair the damage done to the ice crop by the present warm spell.

Awards Made By Court of Honor

The boy scout court of honor was held Thursday night in the district court rooms. T. J. Doyle, E. H. Barbour, Peter Diehl and Charles Ducker constituted the court, the latter two named being substitutes, and the following awards were made.

To be second class scouts:

Fred Lange, troop 8; Harold Amend, 51; Henry Walters, 51; Archibald Bauer, 21; Roger Andrew, 21; Sidney Pepple, 21; Samuel Camp, 21.

To be scouts, Fred Roloff, 25; Walter Ducker, 25.

Merit badges, Byron James, 25 agriculture, angling, wireless.

William Ungles, 21, bird study, signalling.

Trygve H. A. Agersborg, 51, angling, business.

LaSalle Gillman, 27, pathfinding.

Neal Bailey, signaling(angling.

Russell E. Bannister, 1, civics, pathfinding.

Assistant Scoutmaster J. L. Parker, 9, first aid, electricity.

Scout Master Peter Diehl, 25, angling, safety first.

The public is invited and urged to attend these courts of honor which are held the first Thursday night in each month.

News Briefs From the Entire World

WASHINGTON—The German embassy declared the German government will not be in a position to guarantee peace and order in occupied area owing to the paralyzation by the French of the German official apparatus in the Ruhr.

RIO JANEIRO—Ruy Barbosa, Brazilian delegate to the permanent court of international justice is dead.

DES MOINES—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Davis of Sioux City, Ia., suspected of being members of the bandit gang which participated in the $200,000 robbery in front of the Denver mint last December, have been arrested.

HASTINGS LOSES TO G. I. JOBBERS

Railway Commission Rules That Burlington May Change Freight Schedule.

The complaint of Giltner, Trumbull and the Hastings chamber of commerce against the Burlington, protesting a change in schedule of the mixed freight and passenger train on the Aurora-Kearney line is dismissed by the railway commission, in an order issued Friday. The case attracted considerable attention in central Nebraska, and was generally considered to contest between Hastings and Grand Island jobbers for freight service into territory heretofore belonging almost exclusively to the former. By the commission's ruling, Grand Island is put on an equal basis.

The people of Trumbull and Giltner protested the change largely because it would interfere with their mail service. They also objected because it would upset their passenger service to Hastings. The commission considers the train a freight, and its schedule not to be modified to meet demands of the traveling public.

At present the train leaves Aurora at 5:30 a. m., and arrives at Hasting- at 7:20. It leaves Hastings at 3:40 p. m. and reaches Aurora at 5:10 p. m. The change authorized, and which will go into effect immediately, leaves the schedule from Hastings to Aurora unchanged, but the train leaves Aurora at 7 p. m. and gets to Hastings at 9 p. m. This will give Grand Island wholesaler a more direct service to territory south and west of Hastings

Bankruptcy Action By Maixner; Says Owes Banking Board

Jerry Maixner, a machinist of 723 West Nineteenth street, University Place, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in federal court Thursday in which he stated that his debts total $14,032.61 and his assets amount to $85. He claims exemption for the $95 and $500 in lieu of a homestead. Among his debts is a monthly amount of $40 for the maintenance of a minor according to a decree. His petition states that there is $5,000 due the state banking board as his part of a stock assessment in connection with the failure of the Ceresco State bank. Among his debts are: Two notes due the State Bank of Bee for $5,000; one note due the Kilgore State bank for $1,000; and liability would not exceed $1,000 as surety on an appeal bond in the case of John L. Rhinehart of Seattle, Wash., against Charles Maixner—this appeal was not perfected. An order by Referee D. H. McClenahan declares Mr. Maixner bankrupt.

Pastor Has Vision of Church-Stage Union for World Good

Conversion Of Fred Stone, Comedian, Will Pave Way to Possible Co-operation Between Pulpit and Theatre, Minister Feels.

BY DR. CECIL LESLIE CLIFFORD.

(Pastor of Mountain View Methodist Episcopal Church.)

(Written for and copyright, 1923, by International News Service)

BUTTE Mont, March 2—The world has been compelled to pause in its rush for gold and quest for pleasure and listen to a most startling announcement A pulpit among the rugged ranges of the Rocky mountains, 6,000 feet above the sea, was a fitting place for a message which should arrest the attention of the reading world In these times, which "are out of joint," and from such a world-overlooking position, Fred A. Stone he great actor, announced his decision to lead a Christian life and to give one-tenth of his income to God for His work.

The events leading up to this announcement furnish the outlines for a thrilling dramatic story. Fred A. Stone was born forty-nine years ago in Denver, Colo. With persistence he worked his way through school, as a cowboy, a leader in athletics and in the dramatic professions and up to a high level of success until he is known internationally. Snowbound on the prairies of the Dakotas gave him opportunity for his thinking. He purchased a Bible at Billings and on Saturday, February 17, in the study of the pastor of Mountain View Methodist Episcopal church in Butte, Mont., in the attitude of devout prayer, he gave his life to God.

Theatre Must Be Lifted.

The action of Mr. Stone will undoubtedly have great interest on thousands of thinking people. Especially will this be true among the people of his profession. As he says, there are many splendid people on the stage and in the movies. Unfortunately, however, the organization has been given little chance for moral expression. Greed has impelled the promoters to make an appeal to the crowd through gun play, sex suggestion and the thrills of crime. The resulting rottenness has shamed and alarmed discriminative people in the revelations of the past weeks.

The whole enterprise must be lifted from the gutter of booze parties, licentious orgies, scandalous divorces and infectious crime to a level of real service and helpful ministry.

It is time for the theatrical world to clean up for the good of society and also for its own future. The splendid decision of Fred Stone will have a wholesome influence on the men and women of the stage and screen.

May Develop Understanding.

It is the writer's conviction that Fred Stone's action and more his influence during coming years will tend to develop a sympathetic understanding and eventually possible co-operation between the pulpit and the stage That time will arrive when the mission of both is conceived to be that of human helpfulness. And the principles for such a program are to be found in the life and teachings of Him who came "not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

NEAR WRECK OF A PASSENGER TRAIN

Half Mile Of Burlington Track Torn Up Near Ellsworth.

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., March 2. — Burlington passenger train No. 41, westbound, narrowly escaped going into the ditch early Friday morning one and one-half miles west of Ellsworth, when the axle on the rear trucks of the dining car broke, dropping parts of the trucks and axle to the road bed and tearing up half a mile of track before the train was brought to a stop.

The dining car was in the center of the train.

Although the track was badly damaged none of the pullman cars, which were at the rear loaded with sleeping passengers, was derailed or damaged, and although the passengers were badly shaken up, no one was injured.

The wrecker was sent from Alliance with relief pullman and chair cars.

The train was delayed three hours.

Platte River Bridge Burns

GRAND ISLAND, March 2—Late Thursday the bridge across the Platte on the Union Pacific branch from Gibbon to Hastings was discovered to be burning. Four spans were destroyed before section men and farmers could extinguish the flames. Since there is little of wood construction exposed to cinders the origin is a mystery. Trains are temporarily detoured from Hastings to Grand Island, thence west.

DEBT IS REDUCED.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The nation's public debt was reduced by $15,823,644 in February, the treasury department announced today. Governmental economies accounted for a large percentage of the decrease. The public debt now stands $22,715,338,730.

SIGNS ARMY BILL.

WASHINGTON, March 2. — The army appropriation bill which carries an appropriation of $58,580,000 for rivers and harbors projects was signed by President Harding.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

University Players Present Comedy at The Temple Theatre

The University Players presented George M. Cohan's late comedy, "The Meanest man in the World," at the Temple theater Thursday evening. In this play Mr. Cohan indulges in sly raillery at the hard-boiled business man of the modern school.

The play centered around Richard Clarke, lawyer, played by C. L. Coombs, who carried out the characterization in a finished manner. Because he was a sympathetic disposition man, a gentleman, he failed for five years. Disgusted at his failure he decided to assume all the airs of the hard-boiled business go-getter and he had some very amusing experiences, but he didn't really change and he finally succeeded without losing his soul.

The European custom of serving tea between acts was observed between the second and third acts when the crowd went to the Green Dragon on the main floor of the Temple and discussed the play and the players over their tea.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Bart Nash—Harold Felton.
Kitty Crockett—Dorothy Sprague.
Richard Clarke—C. L. Combs.
Ned Stephens—L. C. Hawley.
Mrs. Clarke—Mary Post.
Nellie Clarke—Margaret Good.
Frederic Leggitt—Dwight Merriam
Henry Billings—Foster Matchett.
Carlton Childs—John Dawson.
Michael O'Brien—Jess Randall.
Jane Hudson—Irma Wolfe Coombs.
Hiram Leeds—Rudolph Sandstedt.
Frank Fielding—Arnim Wear.

Grip Left You a Bad Back?

ARE you getting over a cold or grip only to find yourself a victim of backache? Are you suffering headaches, too, dizzy spells, a dull, tired worn-out feeling and annoying kidney irregularities? Then don't delay! Physicians agree that a vast number of the worst cases of kidney trouble are the result of germ diseases. In every infectious diseas the system is alive with poisonous germs and bacteria. The kidneys are overwhelmed with the rush of new work; they break down, become congested, inflamed and diseased. Too often the real trouble is lost sight of until some dangerous kidney ailment sets in. If your kidneys are falling behind, don't wait for serious trouble. Begin using Doan's Kidne. Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Lincoln Folks Found Relief:

Mrs. C. A. Benton, 940 Garfield St., "My kidneys were weak and out of order and I had a lame and aching back that made me miserable. Mornings I felt dull and languid and dizzy spells were frequent. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me until I was free from the backaches and all signs of kidney thouble."

M. M. DURHAM, painter, R. F. D. No. 5, box 112, says: "My kidneys were weakened by the fumes from paint and I had dull backaches Every time I stooped, sharp pains took me across by kidneys and it was all I could do to straighten up. My kidneys acted too often. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon put me in good condition. The backaches left and my kidneys do not trouble me.

MRS. G. SCDORIS, 421 S. 21st Street, says: "The grip left my kidneys in bad condition and there was a lameness across the small of my back and hips. A nagging pain made my back weak and my kidneys acted too freely A friend told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and in a few days I felt like a different woman. I continued to use Doan's and they cured me."

The above statement was given May 5, 1920 and on October 9, 1922, Mrs. Sedoris added: "I have had no return of kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

PINCHOT AND BRYAN

Back in Pennsylvania, Gifford Pinchot, a republican governor is having much the same experience which Governor Charles Bryan faces in Nebraska. Pinchot, as a progressive republican, carried Pennsylvania by a startling vote in the face of the opposition of all of the bosses of one of the worst boss ridden states in America. He has a legislature of his own party but one totally out of sympathy with the program which Pinchot pledged himself to put through.

Similar to Nebraska during the last four years, it has been the practice to spend more than was taken in, although taxation has been so heavy that all other issues have vanished. Now Gifford Pinchot has been engaged in telling the Pennsylvania legislature and the office holders that they can spend only the state's income and no deficits are to be incurred. It's a new sensation for Pennsylvania where every politician has been in the habit of taking care of his friends at the public crib.

The taxation situation there is similar to the tax situation in Nebraska and leads The Saturday Evening Post to observe:

"A progressive program of confiscation is operating in America under the guise of taxation. Increasing burdens are being added year by year to real estate, to productive capital and wages. Slacker wealth alone is escaping, hiding in the tax exempts provided by these same legislators. Much of this money is wisely spent, much of it is wasted in worse than unnecessary extensions of government powers, and in foolish paternalistic schemes, and some of it goes up in smoke between jealous and rival departments.

"Everyone who has had experience in private business knows how every new department that is started tries to magnify its importance, and to increase its personnel. In government there is the same tendency, a hundred-fold stronger. Swelled head and swelled expenses are quickly deflated in private business. If the boss overlooks them competition does not. But in government, the heads and the expenses have a tendency to keep right on swelling.

"At this time every executive, city, state or national, who has the will to check the tax-raising and the hell raising, that have been going on, is a great asset to the country. We have been talking of dollars as if they were rubles and spending them as if they were marks. Wasteful executives, with the current spending mania and half-baked legislators with a passion for fool laws can easily give us a nice start toward Russian and German conditions.

"A fool legislature and the taxpayers' money are soon parted."

What has been said with reference to Pinchot's fight in Pennsylvania is doubly true of the situation in Nebraska.

Ex-Governor John H. Morehead came into office with various state funds overdrawn more than a million dollars. When he relinquished the duties in 1916 all of these overdrafts had been wiped out and for the first time in the history of the state, a governor turned over his office to a successor without a single fund overdrawn and with over $1,200,000 in a cash balance. Then came ex-Governor Keith Neville and when he retired, funds overdrawn totalled over half a million dollars but the cash balance had grown to $1,392,019.43. Then came Governor McKelvie's administration and at the conclusion of the first two years, if it had not been for an accumulating capitol fund to borrow from, the state would have had to register state warrants amounting to $488 001 56. At the end of Mr. McKelvie's second term, this deficit had grown to $1,059,960.42.

These conditions which Governor Bryan is facing.

He has outlined a specific program of retrenchment which calls for a reduction in expenditures of $9,000 000 during the biennium. This is to be accomplished in part by abolishing the code system of government, which was primarily responsible for plunging the state into debt, because it created overlapping and duplicated activities. But the legislature says no. These lawmakers say they know what the people had in mind when they voted for Charley Bryan. They did not want his program of tax reduction and they did not intend he should repeal the civil administrative code. They are enamoured of his skull cap and it must be admitted that Charley lugs a wicked handshake.

Even now this obstinate, unyielding republican majority in the house and senate is preparing to tell the people of Nebraska there is no deficit. They are preparing to do this in the face of the fact that over a million dollars of road work completed in 1921 and 1922 remains to be paid for. They are preparing to do this in the face of the fact that overdrafts in the general fund are now nearly half a million dollars.

This republican majority still listens to the voice of one whose administration was repudiated by the voters at the last election.

It still insists upon retaining departments so accurately described in The Post editorial as constantly expanding their activities under the lash of petty jealousies.

Charley Bryan has nothing to fear if he remains true to the pledge which he gave last November to reduce taxes and to repeal the code law, and we know that he will.

These republican majorities may succeed in making a martyr of him.

And in the end, he will destroy them.

THE FORGETFUL WORLD.

An insignificant item tucked away in the news of the day furnishes a splendid example of the tendency of people to forget. The item follows:

BELFAST, March 1.—Thomas Finlay, who as bugler sounded "charge" for the gallant light brigade at Balaklava and thus started the wild ride immortalized by Tennyson, died yesterday at Drogheda.

Finlay's death follows closely that of Thomas W. Shaw, a member of the famous brigade, who died at London, Ontario Sunday night."

History varies in placing responsibility for the order for the charge of the Light Brigade. But for the humble bugler and his comrades in arms there was no choice or shifting of responsibility. The frowning hills across the Valley had been heavily posted with artillery until they fairly bristled with guns. Not a man from the bugler to the commanding officer entertained any doubt as to the result of that order. They knew it was their death warrant.

But Tennyson tells it:

"Theirs not to question why,
"Theirs but to do and die.
"Noble Six Hundred!

Years have sped by since the clear notes of the bugle called the Light Brigade to heroic action. With the present generation it is but a memory, all too faint and dusty.

But a few days before Shaw's death, a reporter on an Ontario paper found him dying, unnoticed, and his fame unsung. The reporter resolved that Shaw's gallant spirit should not pass to its keeper without Canada's knowing of the passing of another of her heroes and the story of Balaklava was told again.

It has been said that nations are great only when their peoples possess good memories. Certain it is that the world would be infinitely finer and better if some of the sentiment and idealism awakened by heroic deeds would flame through the years.

INEFFICIENT EDUCATION.

Dr. Otis Caldwell, school principal of New York City threw a bomb into the meetings of the National Educational association at Cleveland Thursday of this week by telling the educators that modern education is less than 50 per cent efficient.

Among the remedies which Dr. Caldwell proposed were:

First, a drastic revision of study courses which would supplant archaic textbooks now in use.

Second, the use of newspapers in the class room to vitalize and modernize daily lessons.

Third, the treating of pupils as individuals instead of parrots, which means the abolition of the so-called mass system of teaching.

Recently an instructor at the University of Nebraska told his classes he had found it necessary to subscribe to a Paris newspaper because American newspapers were so lamentably weak in foreign news service and so inaccurate. Unquestionably the Nebraska instructor did not know that at least six great American newspapers are furnishing some of the greatest papers of Great Britain and France, with the foreign news service. The other side of the question was presented by Dr. Caldwell in somewhat spectacular style, when he said at the Cleveland meeting:

"We clipped 3,061 stories upon biological subjects from 492 newspapers in a seventeen month period and out of that number only fourteen articles contained an inaccuracy. That is a better record than most books can show."

Dr. Caldwell's references to biological articles could have been made more emphatic when it comes to accuracy in the handling and interpretation of foreign news. American newspapers read their title clear to leadership in the gathering of foreign news fifteen years ago. But Dr. Caldwell has given educators something to think about.

A TWO-SIDED GENIUS.

When the time comes to elect a new president of the associated advertising clubs of America, what's the matter with Fred Stone, king of the comedy stage. Stone has been right up at the top of his own profession for the last twenty years, and just now he is demonstrating his ability in the advertising line.

There is no disposition in any quarter to question the comedian's sincerity in embracing religon. On the contrary, his friends everywhere will credit him with absolute good faith in that regard. The Methodist church is to be congratulated on attracting him to its membership.

But it is quite evident that if Stone had been actuated by nothing more than the desire to advertise himself he could not have picked on a better way of doing it. Columns of newspaper space have already been given to the story of how he got to meditating on the future life, while snowbound up in Montana, and his subsequent conference with a minister of the gospel, followed by the public announcement that he had identified himself with the church.

And newspaper advertising—all free—is only a starter. Sermons will be preached from thousands of pulpits throughout the country pointing to Fred Stone as proof that professional success and financial prosperity do not satisfy all the needs of the human heart. Many people, no doubt, who would otherwise have felt no interest in his theatrical productions, will be led by their religious sympathies to go and see them.

Stone first came into prominence as a star of the stage when he and Dave Montgomery played the "Scarecrow" and the "Tin Woodman" in "The Wizard of Oz," some twenty years ago. In that role he was trying to find his way to the Emerald City in order to get the Wizard to give him brains, which the farmer had neglected to put into his head.

But Stone has always had a pretty good set of brains, as demonstrated by his phenomenal successes, one after another. And while Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri are "pulling the old stuff" about being engaged, in order to reap some newspaper publicity, Fred Stone goes quietly off into an obscure part of the country, interviews a country preacher, holds an impromptu prayer meeting, and immediately gets the whole country to reading and talking about him.

So hats off to the hero of "The Wizard of Oz," "The Old Town" "The Red Mill" and "Tip-Top." And may his gait never wobble as he trudges along the straight and narrow path.

More Truth Than Poetry

Girls are not as girls were when
Mother was a blushing maid.
Girls were closely guarded then;
There were rules the girls obeyed
When they danced their mothers sat
On the side lines, grim and wise;
There was not a movement that Wasn't caught by "mommer's" eyes.

Girls were prim in mother's day;
Didn't jazz and didn't smoke;
Had to turn and run away
If a bold, big stranger spoke.
When their powder was applied
It was done where none might see,
Conscience then was not a guide,
As today it seems to be.

Girls, when mother still was coy,
Couldn't gad around at night,
Couldn't wear things that a boy
Might consider somewhat slight,
No cute knickies for the dears;
Waists were high and skirts were long;
Rolled-down stockings in those years
Would have put a girl in wrong.

Girls, in mother's youthful days,
Had to practice being prim,
Couldn't go to naughty plays
And were not allowed to swim.
Never dared to travel far;
Always under someone's wing;
Taught to think the sleeping car
An immodest, awful thing.

Girls, in mother's day, had not
Learned what girls have learned today;
They avoided what girls ought
Not to do or thing or say;
Girls were guarded, in those years;
Watching was each mother's game,
But the gossips, it appears,
Had their mouthfuls, just the same.

THE HENRY FORD BOOM.

(York Democrat.)

Some one keeps suggesting Henry Ford as a candidate for president in the next election. His boosters do not seem to be agreed as to which party ticket he will head, if permitted to make the race. In this regard Ford himself seems to be like Hoover a few years ago, and has not made up his mind which party he will aspire to be the candidate of or for. All of this, of course, is the sheerest nonsense. No man need be considered as a possibility who has not a standing in one party or the other sufficient to make him the party leader for the particular campaign in which he hopes to be a candidate. We pointed out the same difficulty when Hoover was being boosted by paid propaganda a few years ago just as Ford is being boosted now. No man can aspire to be the republican candidate who is not recognized by the men who attend conventions, as a member of the party. The same is true of the aspirant for the democratic nomination. The democrats will not permit their delegates to commit party suicide by placing at the head of their ticket any man who does not know himself whether he is a republican or a democrat. It is idle to discuss the matter, and the whole scheme might as well be abandoned for good and all.

MOTOR CARS AND CATTLE.

(Norfolk News.)

California stock men have issued an appeal to motorists either to slow down or, better yet, to stop and wait quietly at the side of the road when they encounter a herd of livestock on the highways. It is an appeal which could be repeated in every rural district in the country.

In the stock-raising regions it is necessary to continue sometimes to drive large herds of cattle or sheep from one place to another. Out in the country anywhere the farmer frequently is under the same necessity in driving his cows to and from pasture. These citizens are as fully entitled to the use of the public highway as is the motorist, but a good many drivers ignore the fact. They charge full speed at the herds, large or small, scattering and frightening the animals.

The motorist who does this endangers himself and the plunging creatures around him, and the chances are that he will have to wait finally until the drove passes. He had better do it in the first place.

GREAT MONOLITHS OF TINIAN.

Although the existence of the colossal columned tombs of Tinian, an island of the Marianne group, north of Guam in the Pacific ocean, has been known ever since 1746, when Lord George Anson, an English naval officer, described them, no effort was ever made accurately to measure, excavate and photograph them until a few months ago. The pillars are monoliths of hard island rock 15 feet high, five feet four inches square at the base and weighing over 30 tons, being surmounted by a hemispherical top piece weighing more than seven tons. The pillars are arranged in two parallel rows, five in a row, and study of these sites indicates that they were mounmental religious structures. Something of the significance of the size of the blocks may be gained by realizing that the Tinian stones are heavier by five tons than the largest of any of the single blocks used in the Egyptian pyramids.—Christian Science Monitor.

Home Life Menaced

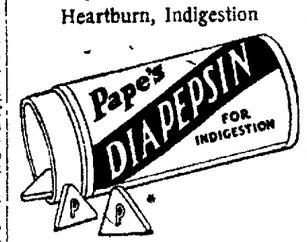

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of overwork. Millions Face Starvation As Russia Exports Grain

Eight million Russians will starve to death before August if not fed by Russian or foreign relief. This is the figure set by the Commission on Russian Relief, consisting of Allen Wardell, Graham R. Taylor, and Allen T. Burns. They have recently returned from a five months' trip in Russia, and their summary report, issued by the National Information Bureau, Inc., is just out. In the face of this comes the astounding news that Russia is exporting grain.

According to the Russian Special Correspondent of the New York Times, Walter Duranty, Russia is preparing to export up to 10,000,000 bushels. Arthur S. Draper, in a London cable to the New York Times, is authority for another report that the Bolshevists delivered about 250 carloads of rye to the Finnish Government and received payment in dollars at the prevailing American rate for grain. According to the report of the Commission on Russian Relief: "The position of the Soviet Government regarding exports is that they are imperatively necessary to break the vicious circle already referred to—underproduction because of the lack of horses and plows, new shortages, famine, further killing and eating of horses, continued underproduction. Quite frankly the authorities state that even at the cost of many deaths from starvation this year, exporting grain is the only way to secure the work animals and implements needed to prevent many more deaths in the future."

There is an illuminating article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week bearing upon the starvation menace which faces Russia in the immediate future. It is illustrated with two maps showing the sections where famine existed last year and the sections where American Relief operates.

STILL FOUND IN SHERIDAN COUNTY

Officers Uncover Apparatus and Barrels of Mash In Raids.

(Special to The Star.)

ANTIOCH, Neb., March 2.—The supply of hooch for southern Sheridan county has, it is believed, been materially lessened by the discovery of two big stills in and near Antioch, the successful sleuth being a deputy sheriff from Rushville, the county seat. The first still was found in the E. H. Duyen garage, in town. An "automobile pit" in the front part of the building had been covered with plank, over which dirt had been spread.

A trap door in the bottom of the pit is alleged to have led to a still, with which were found three barrels of mash and other supplies. Three barrels of mash were found in a henhouse. Duysen was bound over to the district court.

The second still was found on the Pat Reid ranch near Ellsworth east of this city. Deputy Sheriff Miller had been called to the ranch to investigate reports of the illegal possession of muskrat hides. He did not find the hides but his nose told him that hooch was being made somewhere on the premises. He journeyed to Rushville, secured a search warrant and with Sheriff Bob Bruce of Sheridan county returned to the ranch. A pile of hay concealed the entrance to the underground cave in which the still was found. It was not in operation and no mash was found. Reid was taken to Rushville where he pleaded guilty and was fined $300 and costs.

Looks Better In Western Nebraska

(Special to the Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., March 2.—A. W. Miller of Lincoln was a speaker at the regular Monday noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce this week. Mr. Miller said that a thorough investigation has convinced him that Box Butte county and western Nebraska are witnessing a return to more prosperous conditions and that insurance and investment companies are seeking loans in this county. Other speakers at the luncheon were W. B. Barnett, proprietor of the Golden Rule store and H. E. Redish, prominent Alliance capitalist, both of whom have just returned from trips through the east.

Finals In Race For Postoffice

(Special to the Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., March 2.—The long race for the postmastership at this city is drawing to a close. Nine active applicants have been in the race, and the three rating highest in the federal examinations, from which the winner must be named have been announced. They are, J. F. Halderman, cashier of the First State bank, R. R. Mahan, with the Brown Grain and Feed company, and Claude Barker, manager of the Farmers Co-operative Produce company. The final appointment is expected any time. The new postmaster will take office April 1.

Alliance Man On National Board Of Stockgrowers

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., March 2.—Robert Graham, Alliance postmaster and president of the Nebraska Stockgrowers' association, has been appointed a member of the general council of the American Livestock association. The appointment was announced by Fred W. Bixby, president of the national association. The Nebraska organization will hold its annual meeting at Alliance early in June. The annual meeting will include a three-day celebration of the wild west variety, as in former years. Several thousand people are expected in attendance.

Fire Does Damage To School House

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., March 2.—Fire caused damage estimated at $600 to the country school house one mile east of Wymore, Thursday morning, when the roof was burned from the building. The fire is supposed to have started from a defective flue. School was in session. A neighbor noticed flames break out on the roof. The school was dismissed in order, but some damage was done to books and records. The Wymore fire department was called, and made the run with auto truck and chemicals, and saved the building from total destruction.

Alliance Chamber In New Quarters

(Special to the Star.)

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., March 2.—Mrs. Caroline Klemke, one of the oldest residents of the Snyder vicinity, died at the home of her son at Snyder. She was born in Brandenberg in 1830 and was past 92 years of age. She and her husband were settlers near Scribner.

Babe Born at Sea Delays the Family

OMAHA, Neb., March 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Moses Epstein of Warsaw, Poland, and family, including the baby born on the high seas, whose birth held up the family at Ellis Island, because it exceeded by one person the Februaryy quota from Poland and because it had no passport, are on the wa to Omaha. The immigration bureau decided to assign the baby to the Russian quota, according to dispatches from Washington, sent to relatives of the Epsteins here and thus solved the tangle which the baby's arrival caused.

Omaha Speeders Ordered to Jail

OMAHA, Neb., March 2.—Four more speeders were sentenced to jail in two days as the result of a war on reckless drivers. The sentences ranged from one to four days.

HOLD NUTRITION MEETINGS.

WEEPING WATER—Miss Florence Atwood of the state extension service has been active in promoting nutrition meetings in Cass county the past week, according to County Agent L. R. Snipes. She helped the women make out a daily food habit score card, talked about fruit and vegetables and helped each woman make out a record she would need for her family for one month. The women will keep account of the fruit and vegetables they actually use in one month and compare it with the amount estimated. The next meeting will be on April 2. At this time the fruit and vegetables budget will be collected and the progress made will be recorded. Two swine clubs were organized in the county last week. They are a sow and litter club with eleven members and a purebred Gilt club made up of eight members. Byron McMahon was chosen as leader of these clubs. A total of about forty farm record-books have been taken out by the farmers of Cass county this year. A summary of these will be made in December.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflamation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long-standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

FIGHT GAME WIDE OPEN IN CHICAGO

Writ of Injunction Against Officials Gives Scrapping Gents Free Rein.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 2.—Boxing fans here no longer have to delve into the dark and mysterious to find out where the next fight will be held and where tickets for it may be obtained. The regulation clarion-voiced announcement came from the ringside last night that the next boxing contest would be at Turner hall, March 9, a ten-round bout between Eddie Anderson of Moline, Ill., and Frankie Garcia, Memphis, Tenn.

Until last night's "suburban" club entertainment, the recent guise boxing contests have assumed, fandom was left to itself to learn about contests to come and where to purchase "memberships."

Fortified by injunctions against the police department, sheriff, coroner and all others legally qualified to interfere with prize fighting under the stringent Illinois law against it, the promoters no longer display a reluctance in advertising their offerings. At the last two fights no interference was attempted.

Mike Dundee, Rock Island, Ill., defeated Charles Glaser, Chicago, in ten rounds last night.

TRACK STARS AT ILLINOIS MEET

Relay Carnival at Urbana Attracts Speedsters of Midwest Schools.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 2.—Track and field stars of the leading universities and colleges in the midwest today began their invasion of Urbana, Ill., to compete there tomorrow in the University of Illinois annual indoor relay carnival.

Nebraska, winner of the Missouri Valley conference outdoor meet last year will be represented by a strong team.

Squad of Eleven Huskers.

Eleven University of Nebraska track athletes departed early Friday afternoon for Urbana Ill., where the Husker track men will compete in the Illinois relay carnival Saturday afternoon. Coach Henry F. Schulte took the following athletes along: Noble, Lloyd, Lukens, Lear, Turner, Layton, Coats, Trexler, Ted Smith, Gardner and Allen.

The Nebraskans are entered as follows:

75-yard dash—Noble Lloyd, Lukens.

300-yard dash—Lloyd.

Broad jump—Lloyd.

75-yard high hurdles—Lear.

75-yard low hurdles—Lear, Lukens.

High jump—Turner.

Huskers Mix With Pikers Tonight In Final Basket Game

The curtain will drop on the Cornhuskers' participation in the Missouri Valley cage race when the Nebraska and Washington cage fives collide in the university armory tonight. The tip-off is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

The Pikers defeated the Cornhuskers at St. Louis last Friday night, 34 to 32. The two teams put on a heated basket argument, Washington gaining the victory only after two extra periods had been played. Tonight's probable lineup:

Washington		Nebraska
Minner	f	Usher
Warner	f	Cozier
Cantwell	c	Warren (c)
Thumler	g	Riddlesbarger
Hutton	g	Wyant

Last Night's Fights

At New York—Frankie Genaro, New York, got decision over Pancho Villa, Manila, P. I, 15 rounds; Eddie Wagner, Philadelphia, got decision over Red Cap Wilson, New York, 12 rounds; Bobby Garcia, Camp Holabird, got decision over Benny Bass, Philadelphia, six rounds.

At McKeesport, Pa.—Abe Attel Goldstein, New York, floated through nine rounds with Tommy Ryan, McKeesport, and then fought furiously in the tenth. He got a draw.

At Chicago—Harold Smith beat Battling Chink in ten rounds; Mike Dundee beat Charley Glaser in ten rounds; Joie McLaughlin beat Nate Rippon in six rounds.

At Fort Thomas, Ky.—Marvel Marz and Midget Gurey went ten rounds to a draw; Billy Sullivan beat Lou Palmer in six rounds.

Evans Hangs Kayo On Grand Islander In Third Session

(Special to The Star.)

YORK, Neb., March 2.—Rusty Evans, York's lightweight boxer, made short work of his glove rumpus last night in Central City, where he floored Nick Bright of Grand Island for a knockout in the third round.

Evans is back home today to resume training for his next mitten engagement, dated for March 7, when he will exchange punches with Asa Hudkins, Lincoln lightweight, in the main event of a private boxing program for the entertainment of York Elgs and their guests from other Nebraska lodges.

Sargent Defeats Burwell Cagesters

(Special to The Star.)

SARGENT, Neb., March 2.—Sargent high school defeated Burwell in basketball Tuesday night, 37 to 8. Brass and Probst were the main scorers for Sargent while Graber played the best game for Burwell. Jacobs, Sargent guard, played a good floor and guarding game.

Lincoln Hi Won Cage Title Two Straight Years

Lincoln high school won anothe pair of state basketball champion ships in 1917 and 1918. Omaha Central opposed Lincoln in both of the titular contests.

In 1917, Lincoln won the state title by defeating Omaha Central in the final game, 17 to 12. Hardy high won class B by trimming Wes Point, 26 to 11. Diller romped away with class C honors by defeating Alexandria, 33 to 13.

Three thousand spectators jamme the city auditorium to witness th final game. Lincoln led at half-time 9 to 5. The score:

Lincoln, 17—		—Central, 12
Albrecht	f	Patty
Cypreansen	f	Smith
Brian	c	Paynter
Hamren	g	Maxwell
Smith	g	Logan

Goals: Lincoln—Albrecht 5, Cypreansen 2, Smith 1. Central—Patty 3, Smith 2. Free throws—Patty 2, Brian 1.

Lincoln Wins in 1918.

The tournament entry list topped the one hundred mark in 1918 when 118 teams were enrolled. Lincoln again walked off with the honors, defeating Omaha Central in the final game, 29 to13. Shelton won class B from Oakdale, 16 to 23. Final scores in the classes were:

Class A—Lincoln, 29, Central, 13.
Class B—Shelton, 46; Oakdale, 23.
Class C—Hardy, 14; Exeter, 12.
Class D—Ravenna, 30; Seward, 2.

KRIEGER SIGNS TO TAKE ON KETONEN

Local Wrestler and Renowned Finn to Meet In Lincoln Late In March.

Adam Kreiger, Lincoln's wizard middleweight wrestler, has contracted to compete in two mat matches during the month of March. Next Friday night, March 9, is the date of Kreiger's clash with Ralph Parcaut at Des Moines, Ia., while later in the month, probably March 27, Adam will mix with Waino Ketonen, famous Finnish middleweight of Rutland, Mass., in a bout to be staged at the city auditorium in Lincoln.

Contract for the Krieger-Ketonen bout was signed Friday morning. Although the name of the licensed club which is to promote the Krieger-Ketonen rumpus has not been announced, State Boxing Commissioner Doyle has given his official o. k. to the match.

In binding himself to come to grips with Parcaut and Ketonen, the Lincoln grappler unquestionably will be mixing with two of the toughest legitimate middleweights in the wrestling realm. Parcaut has to his credit a defeat in two falls of Johnny Meyers, generally rated as the champion of the middles, while Ketonen is a first-flighter beyond the slightest doubt. Kreiger and Ketonen broke even in two matches in Lincoln two years ago, when the Lincoln athlete was wrestling as a welter.

WESLEYAN WINS FROM BULLDOGS

Methodists Defeat Cotner, 26 to 16, In Ragged Cage Contest.

The Nebraska Wesleyan cage five took the long end of a 26 to 16 score from the Cotner quintet in a contest staged on the Methodist court Thursday evening. The game closed the home season for the Methodists and leaves the tie for the state conference title beteen Peru and Wesleyan unchanged.

Wesleyan broke into the score column at the opening of the game when Gembler snared a counter. Klein, Bulldog forward, came back with a pretty basket and tied the score, but the Cotnerites were left in rear, unable to approach the substantial lead which the Wesleyan five built up by the consistent scoring of Hurlbut and Gembler.

Slow Cage Contest

The contest was exceedingly slow, both quintets being off form on floor work and basket-shooting. The Methodists had repeated opportunities to score, but were seldom able to locate the hoop. The close guarding of the Wesleyan five forced the visitors to resort to long shots which held the Blue and White five to a low score.

Hurlbut, the lengthy Wesleyan center, totaled eight points, with Gembler and Yetter counting six each. Etzelmiller, Cotner star, was good for seven of the Bulldog's 16 points.

The Methodists have two more games on their docket, one with Hastings at Hastings and Grand Island college at Grand Island. The summary:

Cotner.	B.	F.T.	Fls.	Pts.

FLYWEIGHT TITLE PASSES TO GENARO

Midget Wop Declared Victor Over Filipino Wasp In Garden Battle.

FIGHT FANS SAY VILLA ENTITLED TO A DRAW

NEW YORK, March 2.—Frankie Genaro, the East Side boy who won the world's amateur championship of his class in the last Olympics, today is the new American flyweight champion, ruler of the 112 pounders.

The deposed monarch is Pancho Villa, the mightiest mite of a fight man that ever came out of the Philippines. He is a sad boy today, stripped, for the present, of his chance to meet Jimmy Wilde of England, world's champion of the tiny kingdom.

There are a good many of the 15,000 who saw the crown change heads last night in Madison Square Garden who think the clever Filipino was treated harshly, and at least should have received a draw. It is the second questionable decision in 7 days at the Garden, many objecting to the award last week of the light-heavyweight title to Gene Tunney of New York, who defeated Harry Greb of Pittsburgh.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW PORK, Feb., March 2.—"One minute," says Henry Ford, speaking in terms of tin economics.

"One minute," echo the judges of prize fighting at Madison Square Garden as they make and unmake champions.

They unfrocked another title holder last night when Frankie Genaro was given the decision over Pancho Villa after 15 fast rounds, and the verdict, which carried with it the American flyweight title and the privilege of wafting a few punches at Jimmy Wilde for a profitable percentage of the house, was only semi-popular.

Verdict Provokes Debate.

It created almost as much of a furore as the decision, rendered less than a week ago, whereby Gene Tunney was declard winner over Harry Greb in a bout for the light-heavyweight title.

To the writer, it seemed that Genaro was entitled to the benefit of the doubt. He carried six of the fifteen rounds and a spectacular rally through the last four gave him the psychological advantage of leaving the more lasting impression.

Genaro Scored Heavily.

Villa also led in six of the rounds, but his winning rounds were not so conclusive as those of Genaro, who scored heavily in the twelfth and fourteenth.

It was a tough decision on which to deprive a man of his title and, by the same token, it would have been equally unclubby to have ruled against challenger, just because he only won by an eyelash.

It should not be necessary to send a man to the hospital in order to become champion.

Filipino Forced the Pace.

What caused such a divergence of opinion was that Villa forced the pace almost from first to last. He swarmed over Genaro in a cloud of flying fists and seemed to be scoring at will, except to those at the ringside. Here it was apparent that Pancho the Puncho had lost his eye for distance, and many blows curved harmlessly through the atmosphere in the region of Genaro's educated neck.

Had Edges on Clean Punchings.

Genaro scored heavily on the body and head, and if a total of clean punches could have been compiled, it seems to us that Genaro would have been in front with several score.

It was a fair fight, spectacular at times, mildly interesting at others, but hardly the sensational encounter but hardly the sensational encounter for, accordingly.

The scalpers appeared to have all the choice tickets, as always, and disposed of them at preposterous prices.

Local Boxers and Wrestlers Perform On Club Program

Members of the Longfellow Eagles club on West J street enjoyed a mixed program of boxing and wrestling bouts Thursday night. Adam Kreiger, performing in the main event of the mat contests, pinned John Lehl, while Fred Achziger downed John Michal, and Henry Schneider dumped Henry Stehr. The mitten bouts pitted Floyd Kitchen against George Scharton and Dan Hergert against J. B. Worster. John Kreiger served as referee.

K. U. Merely Tied Nebraska Record

Kansas university horn-tooters, following the Jayhawkers' defeat of Missouri in Wednesday night's basketball battle, which decided the Valley conference race in favor of K. U., filed the spurious claim that the Jayhawkers' record of not sustaining defeat during the season set a new mark in Missouri Valley conference basket ball annals.

Kansas boosters must guess again. The achievements of the Jayhawkers did not establish a conference record. The Kansans merely tied the record set by the University of Nebraska basketball squad of 1916, which played fourteen conference games and won every contest on the schedule. Kansas was one of the Valley teams defeated by Nebraska that year.

Lincoln Gunners Plan Sunday Shoot

The opening shoot of the Lincoln Trapshooting club will be held Sunday afternoon on the club grounds, one and one-quarter miles north of Havelock on the Cornhusker highway. The shoot is scheduled to start at 2 p. m.

Secretary C. J. A. Kling announces that everyone is invited to the opening shoot and that there will be plenty of ammunition and rocks on hand. The Lincoln club now lists sixty members.

LINCOLN LEGION IN CAGE VICTORY

Capital City Service Quint Outscores Ogallala By Ten-Point Margin.

Lincoln American Legion basket-tossers defeated the Ogallala five, champion team of the Sidney district, Thursday evening, 33 to 23. The game was played on the state university armory court.

The basket-tossing ability of Gaston and Fenstrom enabled the Keith county tossers to collect a five-point lead during the first period, but Carmen, Munn and Smith put the Lincoln Legionnaires to the front at the start of the second half and the capital city five led the way to the finish. The score:

Spring Top Coats for Boys

There is something mighty cute about a little chap rigged out in one of these light and lasting Spring Topcoats. They are what little boys call "scrumptious". Made of choice all wool cloths—natty tweeds, herringbones, real camel hairs, serges, softings, heather mixture weaves, and fine flannels. Tailored "like Dad's"—they sure look nifty. And they sure are fine when there's a nip in the air.

THE DAILY THOUGHT.

"Sweet through the green leaves shiver the moon"

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 2.

Prices of stocks again responded today to heavy coal operations and increased public buying, the advance being based on the rising tendency of commodity prices and the further indications of prosperity contained in the latest series of earnings statements. Sales approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Opening prices today in the stock market were irregular as a result of profit taking in some of the popular industrial favorites, but oppper, oil and railroad shares were again in demand. Baldwin and Studebaker opened fractionally lower. American Smelting advanced 1 point to a new high record for the year and Anaconda duplicated its previous high. California Petroleum opened a point higher at 27½, also a new peak price, and Pan-American gained a point.

Prices strengthened in the later trading. California Petroleum extending its rise to 29¾, as compared with this year's low of 25¾. The preferred advanced 1 point, also to a new peak price. A gain of 1¾ points in Phillips Petroleum sent that stock to the highest quotation of the year. Other individual strong spots were Bosch Magneto, Loose-Wilson Biscuit, Cuba Cane Sugar preferred, International Paper, Pan-American B, Consolidated Cigar, Union Tank Car, Advance-Rumley preferred and American Can, all up 1 to 2 points. Foreign exchanges opened slightly easier, demand sterling being quoted at $4.70¾, off ¼, and French francs at 6.06 cents, off 2 points.

Heavy profit taking throughout the morning, particularly in California Petroleum which cancelled its 3 point gain and in the equipment and copper shares, some of which yielded a point or more, was unusually well absorbed and failed to halt the advance in other quarters. The buying wave was the broadest witnessed in some time, with impressive strength being shown by the domestic oil, motor accessories, independent steel, tobacco and food shares, and a number of specialties such as Wells-Fargo Express, Sears-Roebuck Eastman Kodak, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Wilys Wiles and United States Realty, all up 1 to 4 points. Call money opened at 3 per cent.

Minor issues were conspicuously strong in the afternoon but gains were made also by many of the usual leaders, especially Baldwin, Bethlehem Steel, Pacific Oil, Phillips Petroleum and California Petroleum, the last mentioned rising to nearly 29 again. Adams Express moved up 1¾, United Fruit 3 and Union Bag and Paper 3½.

The closing was strong. Heavy buying of the independent steel shares and of United States Steel common which touched 108⅝, resulted in another brisk rally in several parts of the line in the late dealings, dividend rumors adding fuel to the speculative flame.

Mrs. Wolfe Takes Stand In $30,000 Suit for Damages

Mrs. Minnie C. Wolfe was on the witness stand Friday morning in the trail of her $30,000 suit against Joseph E. Dudley for the death of her husband, Christopher Wolfe who died of injuries received May 7, last, in an automobile accident ten miles north of Beatrice. Mr. Wolfe was struck by Dudleys car while standing near the former's automobile, which had been stopped in the road for repairs. The accident occurred at night.

Mrs. Wolfe said Dudley's car approached from the rear and struck her husband in attempting to pass around the Wolfe's car on the wrong side of the road.

Mr. Dudley claims neither the front nor the rear lights of Wolfe's car were burning and that it was standing nearly in the center of the highway. Dudley said he did not see the car until he was almost up to it and could not pass around it on the proper side without colliding with another car with glaring headlights coming from the opposite direction. To avoid a collision with either automobile Dudley declares he guided his car into the ditch on the wrong side of Wolfe's car, believing he could pass safely on that side. Mr. Wolfe was struck while standing in the ditch about twelve feet from his automobile, having stooped over to pickup a stick and stepped into the path of the oncoming car as he straightened up. Dudley claims.

Dudley asserts the accident was unavoidable.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 2.

Owing more or less to decided bearish opinions expressed by the president of one of the largest grain companies here, the wheat market underwent a decline today, despite an initial show of strength. The finish was unsettled, ⅜@⅝c net lower, with May $1.18⅝@1.18¾ and July $1.18⅜@1.18⅝.

WHEAT—New upturns in the price of wheat took place today during the early dealings, a forecast of much colder weather being taken as a bullish factor. Strength shown by the corn market tended also to lift the value of wheat. Demand lacked force, however, and prices soon displayed figures to ⅝c higher, with May $1.18⅝@1.19 and July $1.16@1.16⅝, was followed by a slight advance all around and then by a setback to a trifle below yesterday's finish.

CORN—Corn and oats made a further bear storms in Nebraska and dry weather southwest failed to bring about more than transient rallies and weakness developed, especially near the end of the day.

Responses t the bullish estimate which was circulated yesterday in regard to the amount of corn held on farms. After opening unchanged to ⅝c higher, May 73⅝@72⅝c, the corn market scored moderate general gains before beginning to sag.

Subsequently corn reflected to some extent the weakness which appeared in the wheat market. Corn closed unsettled at ⅞@⅝c net decline, May 74¼c.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher, May 43¼c, and later showed a little advance on all deliveries.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were firm in line with the hog market.

The "bonus" of $20 a month is not allowed for these positions. The naval station at Guantanamo Bay provides "bachelor" quarters. For all these positions, transportation is paid by the government to the post of duty and return, provided the appointee serves for the period of at least two years. Application and information may be secured from the civil service window at the post office.

Energy and Enthusiasm in Banking

The amount of genuine interest that a bank takes in its customers depends largely upon the energy and enthusiasm of its management.

The officers of the Lincoln State Bank are never too busy or too pre-occupied with their daily routine to take a kindly interest in every customer.

The young man who dreams, plans, and works to build up his business or personal fortune will find here men who appreciate not only his banking requirements but his ambition as well.

Do You Know--

WHAT IS THE NAME OF LINCOLN'S NEW USED CAR FIRM?

"Motor Exchange."

WHERE IS IT LOCATED?

At 1620 O Street—at the head of motor row

WHO ARE THE OWNERS?

They have lived in Lincoln 20 years; and have been in the Used Car Business about 6 years. They expect to build up business by real merit and square dealing

WILL THEY BE AT 1620 O ST. LONG?

Yes, Sir. They have a long lease on the building and are tied up to stay.

HOW LONG HAVE USED CARS BEEN SOLD AT 1620 O ST.

For years and years—it is the oldest used car house in the city.

WILL THEY HAVE A GOOD STOCK OF CARS?

Yes—Many standard make cars will always be on hand.

WHY ARE THE PRESENT PRICES SO LOW?

Because the cars were bought for spot cash in the dead of winter. No trade-ins on new cars at fancy prices

WIL THEY SELL CARS ON TERMS?

Yes—the terms are the low est offered and no finance charge—they handle your note themselves.

WHY SHOULD YOU BUY A USED CAR?

Because a used car gives you most service per dollar—you save the first depreciation—keeping dollars in your pocket

WHO IS THE "BOSS" AT 1620 O STREET.

Mr. LeRoy B Smith, experienced salesman, who has lived here 20 years.

WHY SHOULD YOU DAILY WATCH THESE COLUMNS"

In order to read what the "Boss" says about used cars, because here you will find real bargains, lowest prices the best trade and easy terms

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

There is a peculiar obstinacy in people born on this date, which sometimes becomes a formidable element to deal with, and really seems inexplicable, but is easily explained. The natural timidity and abnormal delicacy of these, and constant restraint, people acts as a constant restraint, people acts as a while the nature breaks after a while the nature breaks and comes tired of the yoke of its own placing and rebels.

People of this date will deny themselves the necessities and comforts of life, to further the interests of relatives or friends. These are also the people of quick attractions and quicker repulsions, though they are generally so kind to let their aversions be seen.

The governing sign of this date is Pisces and the planets are Jupiter and Neptune The birthstone is a chrysolite

The Eternal Eve

(Copyright, 1923, by May Christie.)

BY MAY CHRISTIE.

A Beautiful Picture.

It was a strikingly beautiful young woman who stared at her reflection in the glass the following evening. Her dark hair—powdered to a snowy whiteness, scented and curled alluringly—made an enchanting frame for a delicately "made up" little face. A small, heart shaped patch was cleverly placed to indicate the dimple in one pretty cheek and another patch reposed complacently in the curve of a dainty little shoulder.

"Heavens! I've forgotten the eyebrow pencil!!" cried Eve, aghast.

She proceeded to the kitchens, and from an admiring cook collected some blacking in a saucer. With deft fingers she then applied this mixture to both brows and lashes.

The theatrical shop had certainly done its duty by Eve's costume. No French King's favorite had ever been arrayed more gorgeously! She moved with a rustle of flowing silks and satins, flaunting laces and jangling jewels."

"You're the most beautiful thing I've ever seen!" declared the infatuated doctor when he called for Eve. He was arrayed as Nelson, and with his one sound eye regarded her admiringly—the other being temporarily obscured by a black shade, which, though unbecoming, was true to character.

"I'm glad you like me!" said Eve rather uncertainly, taking a tentative step in the billowy satins.

"Like you! Why, that doesn't even begin to express it!" murmured the gallant one courageously. Gad! there was something about this sailor's uniform that made one feel a devil! "I—I like you—terribly!" he added with fervor, seizing the lady's hand in his.

"You—you ought to have only one arm!" interrupted Eve prosaically. "Here, let me fix it for you—take it out of its sleeve, and I'll tie it up!"

"But that's the one I hold you with—when I'm dancing with you!" objected Lord Nelson—a dejected gleam in his remaining eye—"I—I want to put it 'round you."

"You're dressed as Nelson—and Nelson you must be!" said Eve, hardheartedly, fixing the arm, and pinning up the empty coat sleeve. "Now we can go."

They set off.

The doctor tucked his free hand under Eve's elbow. He felt enormously elated—what wouldn't those impertinent boy-officers say when the "shawbones" sailed in among them with this beauty on his arm?

"I wish you'd gone as Lady Hamilton," the doctor murmured blissfully.

"Why?" said Eve, in a flat, conclusive tone that was really oddly disconcerting.

"Oh—er—didn't you know about her—and Lord Nelson?"

Eve smiled to herself in the covering darkness. This promised to be amusing. She would feign a childish ignorance.

"Do tell me," she said archly.

The doctor hesitated for a moment. During that instant he wondered if Eve were laughing at him? But, no! she was a dear, simple, lovable little creature, much too pretty to be brainy. Pretty women oughtn't to be clever—their mission in life was something very different—higher, more feminine.

"Lady Hamilton was very beautiful," he said softly, "and Nelson was awfully keen about her, and all that sort of thing." He hesitated, groping for suitably romantic phrasing.

"Did he marry her, then?" queried Eve, vastly entertained.

"No—er—that is, I don't think so!" floundered the doctor. "Fact is, she'd already married his—his uncle—or his nephew. I forget which. Bad luck, wasn't it? Nelson was frightfully keen about her, all the same."

"He ought to have struggled against it," protested Eve, trying not to laugh.

"Oh, come now, Miss Eve—you're too cruel! Nelson's 'dearest Emma'! Why, it's—it's historic!"

Arrival at the hall cut short this illuminative discourse. Strains of a wild jazz band came out to greet them.

The doctors prediction did come true—the beautiful Du Barry was the sensation of the evening. All the young officers crowded about her, anxious to claim a dance while yet there was opportunity.

But Eve's glance roamed around the room in search of the one man she had vowed she never wanted to see again.

How empty all the compliments and the adulation seemed! She didn't feel at all intoxicated. If "he" did not turn up, what a dreary evening it would be!

And then a flush that was even more brilliant that the rouge she wore rose to her pretty, rounded cheeks, as a tall, armored figure strode across the room.

He was coming toward her. Was he going to speak to her? Oh, would he recognize her?

Admiration—and yes—a something that was even deeper shone on Capt. Roscommon's face as he approached the beautiful Du Barry.

"Congratulations!" he said, holding out his hand.

Eve took it a little uncertainly.

"I'm glad you like my costume," she said shyly. Then:

"Now let me guess whom you're supposed to be?"

She surveyed the handsome armored figure.

"Julius Caesar?" she asked suddenly.

He shook his head, smiling down at her.

"Marc Antony, then?"

He nodded.

"You ought to have Cleopatra with you," she challeneged. "The lady that you loved in Egypt."

"I prefer Du Barry," he replied.

"But that would be what clever people call an anarchronism," she remonstrated.

"Who brought you here?" he whispered.

Eve nodded toward the doctor, who had turned away, and was chatting with some friends.

"Oh, that chap. Did he, indeed?" A kind of jealous surprise shone in Wilfred's dark eyes.

With a little thrill of pleased surprise Eve noted the jealousy. In spite of everything—their misunderstandings—there might be still a chance?

Then, as the jazz band struck up a foot-stirring melody the big doors of the hall swung open to admit a solitary figure—a gorgeous, strange little figure, with an imperial headdress and a weird gown of flowing, trailly green, studded with gems.

There was something Oriental—as well as grotesque—in the costume. It had evidently been designed for a tall, queenly woman, and ill became the small, dumpy person who trailed along.

She was fluttering a large peacock fan, and the heavy headdress had slipped a little to one side, giving its wearer a ridiculously rakish air.

"Good lord!! It's—it's Mary!" stammered Wilfred, drawing back.

But before he could say another word, Mary, in her ridiculous costume, had sailed up to him, and with a little affected giggle laid a hand upon his arm.

"It's Cleopatra—come to claim her Antony!" she smirked.

News Briefs From the Entire World

WASHINGTON—Urging enactment of the Dillingham resolution to permit restricted immigration of otherwise admissible Japanese to Hawaii, Senator Borah declared American control of Hawaii and the center of the Pacific ocean to be endangered by the Japanese today.

CHICAGO—John W. Worthington, the "wolf of La Salle street," under sentence of two years and to pay a fine $10,000, Thursday was granted a change of place of incarceration from Leavenworth to Atlanta federal prison.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Approximately 30,000 miners and other laborers employed in coal and ore mines in Alabama outside of Walker county, yesterday received notice of a wage advance averaging approximately 12½ per cent, effective March 16.

WASHINGTON—An additional appropriation of $400,000 for the federal coal commission, placed in the deficiency appropriation bill by the senate appropriations committee Thursday was approved by the senate, subject to acceptance by the house.

PUEBLO, Colo.—High school students who marry cannot attend school dances or other social functions, under a rule adopted by the school board. The rule was adopted following discoveries that four marriages recently had occurred among students at Centennial high school.

WASHINGTON — The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad applied to the interstate commerce commission Thursday for authority to issue $1,000,000 in 4 per cent general mortgage bonds. The securities will reimburse the road's treasury for expenditures made on additions and betterments.

BURLINGTON, Vt.—Mrs. Doritt Stevens Woodhouse, who was awarded a verdict for $465,000 by a jury in her suit against Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Woodhouse, her parents-in-law, for alienation of her husband's affections, has accepted $125,000. Judge Moulton decided that the verdict was excessive and gave the plaintiff te ndays to accept a reduction.

CHICAGO—The death of James P. Walker, for thirty-three years an employe of the Illinois Steel company and internationally known in steel circles, was announced Thursday.

CONGRESSIONAL SQUIBS

Representative W. Bourke Cockran, democrat, New York, died suddenly.

The Voigt filled milk bill was passed by the senate and sent back to the house for adjustment of differences.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines took office as veterans' bureau director, succeeding Charles R. Forbes, resigned.

The senate rejected the nomination of Walter L. Cohen, negro republican leader of Louisiana, to be customs comptroller at New Orleans.

Chairman LaFollette of the senate oil investigating committee, obtained permission to complete its report after adjournment of congress.

Senate approval was given a $400,000 appropriation for continuing activities of the federal coal commission. The house has not yet agreed to the provision.

The house passed, 305 to 36, the composite rural credits bill and conferees immediately began adjustment of differences between the senate and house drafts.

The German embassy declared its government would be unable to guarantee maintenance of peace and order in the Ruhr if the population is provoked to the point of desperation.

A senate investigation committee reported unanifously the charges of the late Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers were executed in France without trial were unfounded.

Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, laid before he interstate commerce commission a plan for the consolidation of all the railroads west of Chicago into four systems.

Dr. Axel Leondde Astrom, minister from Finland, arranged to begin preliminary conversations with Secretary Mellon on refunding of the Finnish debt of $8,281,926 and accrued interest of $1,150,000.

The senate adopted the resolution already passed by the house requesting that president to negotiate agreements with foreign nations looking toward restricting the production of habit forming drugs.

Enactment of legislation permitting restricted immigration of otherwise inadmissible aliens into Hawaii to relieve the labor shortage was recommended by the senate immigration committee, which declared American control of the Islands was endangered by the Japanese.

President Harding, in a letter told Representative Rogers, republican, Massachusetts, he did not favor an anthracite embargo to relieve the fuel situation in New England and felt that further action to facilitate shipments rested wholly with the interstate commerce commission.

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough is Childs Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It.

If you want to the care of that bad, hang on cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Parmint (double strength) and mix a half pint at home.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so safely and quickly on the mucus membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane, free from irritation and mucus follows.

For Catarrhal conditions such as mucus droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Parmint (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.—Advertisement.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR IN A MOMENT

Try This! Hair Appears Soft, Colorful and Abundant —A Gleamy Mass

35 Cent Bottle of "Danderine" Also Ends Dandruff; Falling Hair!

Immediately!—your hair becomes beautiful. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt of any expessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and possess an incompairable softness, lustre and really appear twice as thick and abundant—a mass of luxuriant, glinty, colorful hair.

Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine eradicates dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is the best, cheapest and most delightful hair corrective and tonic. It is to the hair what fresh showers of rain are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, vitalizes and strengthens them. Its stimulating properties help the hair to grow long, heavy, strong.

You can surely have beautiful hair, and lots of it if you will spend 35 cents for a bottle of Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter. It is not greasy, oily or sticky.—Advertisement.

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day eating of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a composition in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to Bright's disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut-like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases. Kellogg's is delicious made into muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, griddle cakes. Recipes in every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

Her Dream Realized—

MRS. JACK HOUK
1313 TENNESSEE ST., LAWRENCE, KAS.

EVERY young woman like Mrs. Houk before her marriage dreams dreams and has visions of her ideal home with her husband, and healthy, happy children to make her joy complete.

But as time goes on her dreams are not realized, she has no children, her life is embittered and it is hard for her to be reconciled to the conditions as they exist.

To every young woman who is in this condition the following letter should bring hope and encouragement, as we know of numberless homes that have been blessed with children, just as this home was, after all hope had been abandoned.

Here Follows Mrs. Houk's Personal Letter:

"I was of a nervous disposition and always had a tired, worn-out feeling. I would get sharp pains in my side when working too hard or when walking too much and sometimes I would have those awful dragged down feelings. I have had such troubles since I was a very young girl and had got very little result from all the medicine I had taken, and one doctor told me that I would never have children unless I had an operation. I had heard a great deal about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I thought I would try it. By the time I had finished the fourth bottle I noticed a change in my health. We took a trip to California at this time and I kept on with the medicine. My health continued to improve and I now have a big, healthy baby boy six months old. I am not doing my own housework yet as I want to get good and strong first as it means a lot to my baby for me to be well while he is nursing. I have spoken highly of the Vegetable Compound to my friends, and I am more than willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. JACK HOUK, 1313 Tennessee St., Lawrence, Kansas.
